LODGE'S DEATH BRINGS SENATE LEADERSHIP UP

New and Unusual Situations Faced in Short Term of Congress by G. O. P.

WARREN MAY ADVANCE

Wyoming Senator or Curtis of Kansas Likely To Be Republican Leader

Washington, Nov. 10.—The passing of Senator Lodge just as his party was preparing to harvest the fruits of a sweeping victory at the polls, surrounds the question of leadership in the Senate with new and unusual situations.

A veteran of the Old Guard, adamant against the policies of the LaFollette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other hand, the Massachusetts patriarch had more than once found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly.

Need Leader

Now that the powerful equasion of his personal influence has been removed from the problem, party chieftains face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

In the determination of this question, President Coolidge undoubtedly will have an opportunity to wield the dominant power of party leadership conferred by the election. If he cares to give it his advice will be a powerful factor in deciding whether the Old Guard is to remain the power in the Senate or whether seniority is to be lifted aside and some new leader lifted.

This question assumes a still greater significance when it is considered that the new Congress which meets next year will see a substantial increase in Republican Senate strength. In view of the changes to take place as a result of the election and close balance in Congress any permanent organization on the Republican side may be delayed for some months and a temporary leader designated to act during the short session.

Warren May Lead

Should no sweeping readjustment of the Senate be attempted, it is probable Senator Warren of Wyoming or Senator Curtis of Kansas will be floor leader. But if there is to be a new deal all around the names may include Wadsworth of New York, Moses of New Hampshire, Reed of Pennsylvania and Watson of Indiana. Lodge is the third prominent Senate Republican to die within recent weeks. As a result the Republican party finds itself with a membership of but 50 in the Senate, unless Gov. Cox of Massachusetts appoints a successor to Senator Lodge before December 1.

Although the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Colt of Rhode Island was filled in Tuesday's election, that resulting from the more recent death of Senator Brandegee will not be decided until Dec. 16 in special election. As this is more than two weeks after the time set for meeting of Congress, the Senate will meet without a full membership. In the face of that situation, but 50 Republican members, not all of whom are classed as strict party men, the situation will need expert handling if the Republicans are to continue in the Senate as the dominant party.

Borah to Advance

Under the rule of seniority, Senator Borah, Idaho, ranking Republican member, would succeed to the chairmanship of the foreign relations committee which it is believed he would accept, although it would mean his surrender of the education and labor committee and any idea of assuming the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, for which he is in line, under the practice which restricts a Senator to one major committee chairmanship.

The procedure for selecting a party floor leader is not so clearly defined, the seniority rule not always being followed. If it should be, the selection in this case would fall on Senator Warren of Wyoming but if promotion should be resorted to the choice would fall on Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip and Republican floor leader. Some friends of Senator Warren believe he would not select the leadership and Senator Curtis will be named. Senator Curtis has been active for sometime in the actual leadership on the floor as have Senator Watson of Indiana and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, owing to Senator Lodge having voluntarily relinquished much control to them and devoted his time to foreign relations and other affairs.

SUES STATE FOR SALARY

John Cain has sued the State of North Dakota, in the Burleigh district court, for $700, alleged to be due for services as caretaker of the state fish hatchery in Rolette county from August 15, 1920 to February 15, 1921.

EXHIBITS ROLLING IN RAPIDLY FOR NORTH DAKOTA STATE CORN SHOW, TO OPEN SECOND TIME HERE WEDNESDAY

Petrified Ear of Corn One of Freak Exhibits to be Shown In the Displays—North Dakota Now Firmly in Corn Belt, Says Show Prospectus

A petrified ear of corn will be exhibited at the second annual North Dakota State Corn Show which opens in Bismarck Wednesday, November 12, and continues for four days, including Saturday. The freak ear is being sent here by Major Mossman of the Standing Rock Indian Agency at Fort Yates. Major Mossman has been a consistent booster for corn raising and has done much to encourage many exhibits from Sioux county.

The exhibits were rolling in rapidly today, with prospects that the show room, which is to be in the Annex Hotel building on East Broadway, will be well filled with North Dakota's choicest corn this fall. The earlier date of the show has made it possible for farmers to select corn in the field for the show.

A part of the great variety of prizes for the show are now on display at Hoskins-Meyer, Bismarck. An attractive window contains the cups offered for the show, with one exception. Five are to be offered, together with more $500 in cash prizes.

The foreward of the Corn Show prospectus says: "North Dakota has demonstrated this year what it can do in the production of corn against conditions hardly ideal. Over the entire corn belt unfavorable weather militated against a bumper yield, but in many counties of this state excellent corn has been harvested. Many counties are working upon exhibits in an attempt to wrest the Hanna grand prize cup from Sargent county, last year's winner.

"North Dakota is more firmly on the corn map this year than ever. It has produced better yields than many parts of Iowa and Illinois.

Vaudeville shows, farmers' institute and many attractive bargains will be combined to provide interest for visitors, together with the corn show.

ROLL CALL IS SUCCESS

Bismarck Highly Praised For Fine Work Done

The Bismarck roll-call campaign for the Red Cross has established a new record in the state.

"The results speak for themselves," writes J. P. Hardy of Fargo, state director. "And Bismarck had set an example that is going to be difficult for others to follow. The Bismarck roll call is a most remarkable one."

Because of the fine organization built up here under R. A. Tracy, local chairman, Mr. Hardy has informed Miss Mary Cashel that he is sending an outline of the organization to other chapters in the state for use in future campaigns.

Mr. Tracy declines to take credit for the drive.

"Am glad to know the campaign was a success," he observed. "This was due to the splendid work and assistance of the Bismarck Tribune and a fine bunch of workers on the committee."

GIRL, 14, IS FOUND SLAIN

Search for Murderers Is Being Made

East Chicago, Indiana, Nov. 10.—The body of 14-year-old Florence Gwazda, with her tongue cut out and her throat severed, was found on a prairie near here early today by a workman. The girl had been missing since yesterday afternoon.

The body was bruised and battered, indicating the girl had fought her assailant. She was the eldest of five children and had left her home intending to go to a motion picture show. A search for the slayer is being made.

NESTOS OFFERS COOPERATION TO MR. SORLIE

Governor Asks Mill Board Member to Remain Until New Governor Assumes Job

Steps were taken by the administration of Governor Nestos today to insure cooperation for A. G. Sorlie, Governor-elect, in the conduct of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks and in his administration generally.

Ole Serumgard of Devils Lake, who resigned as a member of the board of managers of the mill and elevator, it was learned, had been prevailed upon by Governor Nestos and others of the Industrial Commission to retain his position until Mr. Sorlie assumes office so that the new commission will be able to make an appointment to succeed Mr. Serumgard.

Governor Nestos also, it was learned, had written to Mr. Sorlie offering to open up all avenues of information and provide any assistance that might be desired by the Governor-elect in preparing himself for the duties he is to assume as Governor.

"I have written to Mr. Sorlie, congratulating him, and telling him that anything we may do to facilitate his efforts by providing information, or by any other service, we shall do gladly," the Governor said. "It is a difficult job Mr. Sorlie is facing and whatever we can do to help him give the state a successful administration we shall do."

DR. HEGGE TO QUIT

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—Dr. E. N. Hegge of Hatton, a member of the board of managers of the state mill and elevator, who was in Fargo recently, declared himself prepared to resign when the state administration changes.

"I have had in mind the idea of resigning," said Mr. Hegge. "Mr. Sorlie made the mill management an issue in his campaign, and I am ready to give him full opportunity to go ahead with his program, and expect to resign."

George H. Wilder of Grand Forks, another member of the board, said that members of the board probably would discuss the proposal of resignation at their next meeting. He said that he thought the offering of the resignations would be the proper policy.

BUYING ORDERS FLOOD MARKET

New York, Nov. 10.—Another flood of buying orders poured in to today's stock market, carrying more than a score issues to new peak prices for the year in the first 15 minutes of trading on total sales excess of 150,000 shares. Initial gains ranged from fractions to four points.

Parade form at 1:45 sharp.

The program will follow immediately thereafter at the city Auditorium, with music and a patriotic address by Harold D. Shaft.

In the evening, at 6:45 p. m., the ex-service men will have their annual Armistice Day banquet, tendered by the War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary, at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

Public buildings of the city and banks will be closed tomorrow.

SHOOTS EYES FROM MAN HE SEES WITH WIFE

Fort Valley, Ga., Nov. 10.—James W. McKenzie, 26, member of a prominent family of Montezuma, Georgia, shot out the eyes of Walter Anderson, garage propriétor, also of Montezuma, late yesterday when he found Anderson in company with Mrs. McKenzie in this city. The McKenzie's have been living apart for several months. McKenzie is said to have been trying to effect a reconciliation.

HALL GLAD TO TAKE OFFICE

Thomas Hall, Congressman-elect from the Second North Dakota district, today expressed satisfaction for the first time that unofficial returns had definitely established his election.

"I am very much pleased by the latest returns showing my election," said Mr. Hall. "I hope to be of some service to our people. I promise the same close attention to that office I have given the office of Secretary of State. I expected to be checked out here in time to take my seat in Congress December 1."

Mr. Hall has made no appointment of private secretary, and said he had not given this any thought.

Though he has been blind for nearly 10 years, John Sargent of Rempstone, England, has just completed 60 years of service as a pastor.

8-HOUR LAW APPLIES TO BARBER SHOPS

The North Dakota eight-hour law for women employes, applies to those in barber shops and hairdressing establishments, according to an opinion given Miss Dorothy Blanding, secretary, Minimum Wage Commission, by Philip Elliott, Assistant Attorney-General.

"It is my belief that the eight-hour law applies to such employes and that such establishments are within the category of mechanical establishments included in the act," the opinion says.

WINS SHERIFF RACE IN SHORT STICKER FIGHT

A. R. Marshall Wins Out in Hot County Fight in Williams County

OTHER CO. ELECTIONS

Hospital Proposition Is Defeated in Kidder County Vote

Williston, N. D., Nov. 10.—One of the most spectacular county election fights in the state was staged in Williams county. A. R. Marshall did the unusual when he was elected sheriff of Williams county on a "sticker" campaign. He was brought out in the race about four weeks before the election, his chief backer being the Williams County Farmers Press, Nonpartisan, which charged the present sheriff with lax law enforcement.

Sorlie ran far ahead of Coolidge in this strong Nonpartisan League county. A comparison shows that in 42 precincts out of 70 in the county LaFollette had 1,880 votes to 1,414 for Coolidge, and for Governor Sorlie had 2,211 to 995 for Halvorson. Ernest A. Francis, editor of the League paper, was elected states attorney in another hot county fight. Francis was assailed in a libel suit recently.

Reports to Williston said that Watford City lost the county seat fight in McKenzie county, and the county seat will remain at Schafer.

SCHWARTZ REELECTED

Zap, N. D., Nov. 10.—David Schwartz, incumbent, was reelected states attorney of Mercer county over J. N. McCarter. With four precincts missing from the totals, Schwartz had 1,144 votes to 810 for McCarter. Paul Leupp was named auditor, Giffey register of deeds, Haevischer clerk of court. Thomas superintendent of schools, Hazen Star official paper.

BIG VOTE CAST

Ft. Yates, N. D., Nov. 10.—Sioux county cast its largest vote in last Tuesday's election. Winners in the county included: Mrs. Sarah M. Walter over L. L. Primeau for treasurer by 23 votes. Miss E. Helen Iorns was named county superintendent, A. G. McBeede states attorney, receiving 576 votes to 445 for George Purchase and 244 for E. S. Johnson on incomplete returns; James Caddell, sheriff; J. C. Shields, register of deeds; J. M. Carignan Jr., county judge; Sioux County Pioneer, official peper.

BROTHERS ELECTED

New England, N. D., Nov. 10.—Robert M. LaFollette didn't lose North Dakota because of Hettinger county. The Hettinger County Herald says: "Robert M. LaFollette came out of Hettinger county with a majority of 355 votes. However, he failed to hold his lead in the United States." The Strechlow brothers did well. Oscar Strechlow won over Theodore Gulensohn by seven votes for county commissioner and Alfred Strechlow was elected sheriff over William Kuhl by 48 votes. Mrs. Martha E. Bratcher was named county superintendent. A. F. Noble auditor, Henry Barry clerk of court, F. L. Wagendorf register of deeds, J. K. Murray, states attorney, L. H. McCoy county judge, Mott Pioneer Press official paper. The vote on county extension work was yes 1,029, no 1,213.

KIDDER COUNTY VOTE

Steele, N. D., Nov. 10.—Charles Liessman, states attorney of Kidder county for the last two years, was defeated in the election by Arne Vinjes by a vote to 1,249 to 837. Other county officers were: Sheriff, J. E. Burton, treasurer, Nellie F. Bayne; register of deeds, J. J. Stans; county judge, Ed Hensted; auditor, Guy L. Mead; clerk of district court, Finess Powell; superintendent of schools, Ethel Hutcheson; coroner, F. B. Lodge; public administrator, Rees L. Phelps; official newspaper, Kidder County Farmers Press.

A proposal to establish a county hospital was badly defeated. The vote was 274 "yes" to 1900 "no."

SENATOR LODGE VETERAN G.O.P. SENATOR, DIES

Massachusetts Solon Succumbs After Making Hard Fight For Life

HAS LONG SERVICE

Was in Senate 31 Years—Took Part in Many Important Battles

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 10.—Henry Cabot Lodge, senior Senator from Massachusetts, Republican and leader in the Senate, who served in the Senate 31 years, is dead. The end came at the Charlesgate Hospital here shortly before midnight.

Struck down last Wednesday just as he was making a rapid convalescence from his second operation within a few months the 74-year-old Senator was unconcious during most of the day intervening before his death.

For a brief period Friday he rallied with remarkable vitality and regained conciousness for a few brief periods during which he spoke to his physician and the relatives at his bed-side. He again relapsed into a coma, however, and his strength gradually ebbed away.

Word of his death brought tribute from many places.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a life-long friend of the Senator and a fellow member of the class of 1871 at Harvard. Burial will be in the Lodge family lot at the Mount Auburn cemetery at Cambridge.

Henry Cabot Lodge had served continuously in the United States Senate since 1893, as republican leader since August, 1918, and was one of the most prominent members of his party for a generation.

Statesman, publicist, author, lawyer and historian, Mr. Lodge's manifold activities made a wide impression on contemporaneous events. Chief prominence, perhaps, came to him as leader of the Senate opposition to the League of Nations and the treaty of Versailles during 1918, 1919 and 1920. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and republican floor leader, he led the contest with former President Wilson in the fight against ratification. He was the author of the "Lodge reservations" and was credited with a large part in molding the policy of the Harding administration against American entrance into the League.

He was born in leisure, but always worked. A principle laid down by him in early life was: "The first thing for a man of leisure to do, if he really wishes to count in his day and generation, is to avoid being an amateur." Although he apparently had no intention of practicing law, he worked hard and won a degree in that branch at Harvard, and then worked on a thesis on Anglo-Saxon land laws, which won him his Ph. D. In the three years that followed he was lecturer at Harvard on American history, and at the age of 30 was recognized as an authoritative historian. Among the score of books he wrote were biographies of Washington, Hamilton, and Webster.

Believed in Politics

It was his theory that every man should "give of his leisure, more or less, to politics; for it is simply good citizenship for him to do so," and along with the historical researches he became interested in contemporary politics. His public career began with election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1879.

He was unsuccessful in his first attempt to go to Washington as a national legislator. In 1882 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman and the contest was so close that 130 ballots were required to decide the nomination of his opponent by the Congressional convention. In 1886, however, he was nominated and elected to the national House of Representatives, where he served six years before his election to the Senate.

Drew On History

His oratory was distinguished by his practice of sketching in an historical background and his facility in quoting apt historical incidents. In an interview in 1922 summing up his career he said: "I have nothing to say about my opponents, for I have never made personal or abusive attacks on anyone opposed to me. It has always seemed to me that a man in public life stood more strongly if he stood on his own merits rather than on someone else's defects. I think I may say that I have done a great deal of difficult and responsible public work. On that public work and on that record I am content to stand."

Mr. Lodge from the outset of his public career was an enthusiastic republican and an intense partisan. He was honored often by his party. An ambition to be chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, on which he served for many years, was realized when the republicans regained control of the Senate in 1919. He was then chosen majority leader, having served the republican minority previously as floor leader.

ARMED WHITES IN ASSAULT ON CAMP WORKERS

Killing of Young Worker by Negro Bandits Results in Racial Conflict

National Guard Gives Protection to Negro Workers Who Are Assailed

Harrodsburg, Ky., Nov. 10.—(By the A. P.)—Armed white workmen drove out approximately 500 negroes from the construction camp of the Dix River Dam, eight miles from here last night, after Edward Winkley, 18, a bridegroom of only a few days, had been fatally shot by negro highwaymen.

Fifty national guardsmen arrived at the Dix River dam construction camp shortly after 8:30 o'clock this morning. One detachment remained on guard at the dam and another, on request of the contractor in charge of the dam work, was used as an escort to negro workers who were being returned. All negroes will be paid off, it was announced, and those who wish to remain will be retained on the company payroll.

Walter Chance and John Williams, both negroes, were arrested by Sheriff Walter Kennedy at the dam and hurried to Danville for safe-keeping. One of them, the sheriff said, was known as "Big Jelly Roll" and the other as "Little Jelly Roll."

The slain man detailed to two companions 10 minutes before his death how three negroes attempted to rob him and said he had been shot by "Big Jelly Roll."

News spread quickly throughout the camp and adjoining sections. White farmers and workers rushed to the dam, armed themselves with shotguns, pistols and pitchforks, and stormed the negro bunk houses. Those not armed seized stones and threw them at the negroes as they fled. Operations on the dam construction were renewed today by about half the force.

Last Wednesday was pay day at the dam camp and several robberies occurred. The thefts were reported to authorities but no arrests have been made

SEEKS RULING ON DRY LAW

Congressman Goes on Trial in Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 10.—Before the case of John Philip Hill, the Baltimore member of Congress who is charged with violation of the Volstead act in the manufacture and possession of cider, was called in United States court today, Mr. Hill said he would not deny any of the material facts in the case.

"What we are after," he said, "is an interpretation of section 29 of the Volstead act as it applies to wine and cider. It is provided that the court may rule that the less than ½ of one percent regulation in the Volstead act applies to cider. In that case I would expect to be found guilty and the case would be carried on appeal to higher court.

"If the court agrees with officials of the prohibition unit, as evidenced by a letter in my possession from them, that the one-half of one percent does not apply, then we will expect the court to hold me not guilty."

Sets Hearing On Gray Charges

A hearing will be held on the charges brought against J. A. Gray, Ransom county auditor, by Governor Nestos, on November 14. Testimony in the case instituted in Ransom county was taken by a referee and findings submitted to Governor Nestos, who will hold the hearing as required by law.

RESERVE BANK HEAD REPORTS HEAVY VOLUME

Business Expansion Is Indicated by Lack of Unemployment in District

GRAIN MOVEM'NT HEAVY

Remarkable Receipts at Minneapolis and Head of the Lakes Shown

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—The volume of business in this district in October, when measured by individual debits in sixteen important cities, reached the unparalleled total of $1,108,424,000, says the monthly report of John R. Mitchell, federal reserve agent, today. This was 19 percent larger than the previous record figure of October, 1920, and nearly 50 percent larger than the total in October last year. This tremendous increase is to be explained largely by the rapid and heavy movement of the bread grains, which began in September. The condition of the labor market locally indicates business expansion, because data compiled by us shows that the unemployed laborer is in a much better bargaining position now than at anytime since April of this year. The Ninth Federal Reserve District includes North and South Dakota.

Grain receipts at Minneapolis and the Head-of-the-Lakes reached the remarkable total of 98,865,652 bushels during October. The immensity of this figure is best shown by a comparison with September receipts this year of about 85,000,000 bushels and October receipts last years of less than 35,000,000 bushels. The majority of the grain marketed in October was routed to Duluth and nearly 52,000,000 bushels were shipped down the lakes during the month. Prices of all grains advanced during October, with the exception of corn, which declined 4 cents per bushel in its median price, price .

Foreign Demand Good

European demand for North American breadstuffs continued strong during October. Wheat exports from Atlantic and gulf ports, including both Canadian and American grain, amounted to 42,556,000 bushels in the four weeks ending October 25, as compared with 23,890,000 bushels in the same period last year. These figures are derived from the weekly reports of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle. Flour exports from the same ports totaled 2,185,000 barrels in the same four weeks of October, as compared with 1,217,000 barrels a year ago. Rye exports amounted to 12,476,000 bushels in the October period, while in the same period last year, they totaled only 2,795,000 bushels. As prices of wheat and rye forced upward by this export demand, European purchasers extended their orders to the less desirable grains, namely, barley and oats. Barley exports from Atlantic and gulf ports were about 5 1-2 million bushels in October, as compared with less than 2 million bushels in September and a little more than 1 million bushels in October, 1923. Similarly, in the case of oats, nearly 5 million bushels were exported in October from these ports, as compared with 2 1-2 millions in September, and only one-third of a million bushels in October a year ago.

Livestock Receipts Less

Receipts of livestock at terminals during October were one-fourth lower than last year for cattle, one-seventh lower for hogs and slightly less for sheep. The movement of feeders, as compared with last year, showed an improvement only for hogs. This means that a change of sentiment has probably taken place among hog raisers. Median prices of hogs, butcher steers and lambs at South St. Paul advanced, although some decline is normally expected for this season of the year. The steady development of dairying is shown by the greater receipts of calves than last year and by declines in their median prices greater than normal for this season.

Building Greater

Prospective building activity, as reflected by permits granted in eighteen important cities of this district, was greater in October this year than a year ago. Improved business confidence is also apparently indicated by the fact that larger projects are under way now than last year. The housing situation in the cities is satisfactory, although more dwellings are for rent now than for several years past. However, this is not reaching such a point of surplus as to break values seriously nor to retard new building. It is noteworthy that there was a greater reduction in the offerings for rent in October than is customary for this season of the year.

Fishermen in Kent and Essex, England, have complained of damage to nets through picking up old machine guns dumped in the sea.

There are 1,200,000 "city cows" in the United States, a survey by the United States Department of Agriculture shows.

LODGE'S DEATH BRINGS SENATE LEADERSHIP UP

New and Unusual Situations Faced in Short Term of Congress by G. O. P.

WARREN MAY ADVANCE

Wyoming Senator or Curtis of Kansas Likely To Be Republican Leader

Washington, Nov. 10.—The passing of Senator Lodge just as his party was preparing to harvest the fruits of a sweeping victory at the polls, surrounds the question of leadership in the Senate with new and unusual situations.

A veteran of the Old Guard, adamant against the policies of the LaFollette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other hand, the Massachusetts patriarch had more than once found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly.

Need Leader

Now that the powerful equasion of his personal influence has been removed from the problem, party chieftains face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

In the determination of this question, President Coolidge undoubtedly will have an opportunity to wield the dominant power of party leadership conferred by the election. If he cares to give it his advice will be a powerful factor in deciding whether the Old Guard is to remain the power in the Senate or whether seniority is to be lifted aside and some new leader lifted.

This question assumes a still greater significance when it is considered that the new Congress which meets next year will see a substantial increase in Republican Senate strength. In view of the changes to take place as a result of the election and close balance in Congress any permanent organization on the Republican side may be delayed for some months and a temporary leader designated to act during the short session.

Warren May Lead

Should no sweeping readjustment of the Senate be attempted, it is probable Senator Warren of Wyoming or Senator Curtis of Kansas will be floor leader. But if there is to be a new deal all around the names may include Wadsworth of New York, Moses of New Hampshire, Reed of Pennsylvania and Watson of Indiana. Lodge is the third prominent Senate Republican to die within recent weeks. As a result the Republican party finds itself with a membership of but 50 in the Senate, unless Gov. Cox of Massachusetts appoints a successor to Senator Lodge before December 1.

Although the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Colt of Rhode Island was filled in Tuesday's election, that resulting from the more recent death of Senator Brandegee will not be decided until Dec. 16 in special election. As this is more than two weeks after the time set for meeting of Congress, the Senate will meet without a full membership. In the face of that situation, but 50 Republican members, not all of whom are classed as strict party men, the situation will need expert handling if the Republicans are to continue in the Senate as the dominant party.

Borah to Advance

Under the rule of seniority, Senator Borah, Idaho, ranking Republican member, would succeed to the chairmanship of the foreign relations committee which it is believed he would accept, although it would mean his surrender of the education and labor committee and any idea of assuming the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, for which he is in line, under the practice which restricts a Senator to one major committee chairmanship.

The procedure for selecting a party floor leader is not so clearly defined, the seniority rule not always being followed. If it should be, the selection in this case would fall on Senator Warren of Wyoming but if promotion should be resorted to the choice would fall on Senator Curtis of Kansas, Republican whip and Republican floor leader. Some friends of Senator Warren believe he would not select the leadership and Senator Curtis will be named. Senator Curtis has been active for sometime in the actual leadership on the floor as have Senator Watson of Indiana and Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, owing to Senator Lodge having voluntarily relinquished much control to them and devoted his time to foreign relations and other affairs.

EXHIBITS ROLLING IN RAPIDLY FOR NORTH DAKOTA STATE CORN SHOW, TO OPEN SECOND TIME HERE WEDNESDAY

Petrified Ear of Corn One of Freak Exhibits to be Shown In the Displays — North Dakota Now Firmly in Corn Belt, Says Show Prospectus

A petrified ear of corn will be exhibited at the second annual North Dakota State Corn Show which opens in Bismarck Wednesday, November 12, and continues for four days, including Saturday. The freak ear is being sent here by Major Mossman of the Standing Rock Indian Agency at Fort Yates. Major Mossman has been a consistent booster for corn raising and has done much to encourage many exhibits from Sioux county.

The exhibits were rolling in rapidly today, with prospects that the show room, which is to be in the Annex Hotel building on East Broadway, will be well filled with North Dakota's choicest corn this fall. The earlier date of the show has made it possible for farmers to select corn in the field for the show.

A part of the great variety of prizes for the show are now on display at Hoskins-Meyer, Bismarck. An attractive window contains the cups offered for the show, with one exception. Five are to be offered, together with more $500 in cash prizes.

The foreward of the Corn Show prospectus says: "North Dakota has demonstrated this year what it can do in the production of corn against conditions hardly ideal. Over the entire corn belt unfavorable weather militated against a bumper yield, but in many counties of this state excellent corn has been harvested. Many counties are working upon exhibits in an attempt to wrest the Hanna grand prize cup from Sargent county, last year's winner.

"North Dakota is more firmly on the corn map this year than ever. It has produced better yields than many parts of Iowa and Illinois.

Vaudeville shows, farmers' institute and many attractive bargains will be combined to provide interest for visitors, together with the corn show.

ROLL CALL IS SUCCESS

Bismarck Highly Praised For Fine Work Done

The Bismarck roll-call campaign for the Red Cross has established a new record in the state.

"The results speak for themselves," writes J. P. Hardy of Fargo, state director. "And Bismarck had set an example that is going to be difficult for others to follow. The Bismarck roll call is a most remarkable one."

Because of the fine organization built up here under R. A. Tracy, local chairman, Mr. Hardy has informed Miss Mary Cashel that he is sending an outline of the organization to other chapters in the state for use in future campaigns.

Mr. Tracy declines to take credit for the drive.

"Am glad to know the campaign was a success," he observed. "This was due to the splendid work and assistance of the Bismarck Tribune and a fine bunch of workers on the committee."

GIRL, 14, IS FOUND SLAIN

Search for Murderers Is Being Made

East Chicago, Indiana, Nov. 10.—The body of 14-year-old Florence Gwazda, with her tongue cut out and her throat severed, was found on a prairie near here early today by a workman. The girl had been missing since yesterday afternoon.

The body was bruised and battered, indicating the girl had fought her assailant. She was the eldest of five children and had left her home intending to go to a motion picture show. A search for the slayer is being made.

NESTOS OFFERS COOPERATION TO MR. SORLIE

Governor Asks Mill Board Member to Remain Until New Governor Assumes Job

Steps were taken by the administration of Governor Nestos today to insure cooperation for A. G. Sorlie, Governor-elect, in the conduct of the state mill and elevator at Grand Forks and in his administration generally.

Ole Serumgard of Devils Lake, who resigned as a member of the board of managers of the mill and elevator, it was learned, had been prevailed upon by Governor Nestos and others of the Industrial Commission to retain his position until Mr. Sorlie assumes office so that the new commission will be able to make an appointment to succeed Mr. Serumgard.

Governor Nestos also, it was learned, had written to Mr. Sorlie offering to open up all avenues of information and provide any assistance that might be desired by the Governor-elect in preparing himself for the duties he is to assume as Governor.

"I have written to Mr. Sorlie, congratulating him, and telling him that anything we may do to facilitate his efforts by providing information, or by any other service, we shall do gladly," the Governor said. "It is a difficult job Mr. Sorlie is facing and whatever we can do to help him give the state a successful administration we shall do."

DR. HEGGE TO QUIT

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—Dr. E. N. Hegge of Hatton, a member of the board of managers of the state mill and elevator, who was in Fargo recently, declared himself prepared to resign when the state administration changes.

"I have had in mind the idea of resigning," said Mr. Hegge. "Mr. Sorlie made the mill management an issue in his campaign, and I am ready to give him full opportunity to go ahead with his program, and expect to resign."

George H. Wilder of Grand Forks, another member of the board, said that members of the board probably would discuss the proposal of resignation at their next meeting. He said that he thought the offering of the resignations would be the proper policy.

BUYING ORDERS FLOOD MARKET

New York, Nov. 10.—Another flood of buying orders poured in to today's stock market, carrying more than a score issues to new peak prices for the year in the first 15 minutes of trading on total sales excess of 150,000 shares. Initial gains ranged from fractions to four points.

The program will follow immediately thereafter at the city Auditorium, with music and a patriotic address by Harold D. Shaft.

In the evening, at 6:45 p. m., the ex-service men will have their annual Armistice Day banquet, tendered by the War Mothers and Legion Auxiliary, at the Grand Pacific Hotel.

Public buildings of the city and banks will be closed tomorrow.

SHOOTS EYES FROM MAN HE SEES WITH WIFE

Fort Valley, Ga., Nov. 10.—James W. McKenzie, 26, member of a prominent family of Montezuma, Georgia, shot out the eyes of Walter Anderson, garage propriétor, also of Montezuma, late yesterday when he found Anderson in company with Mrs. McKenzie in this city. The McKenzie's have been living apart for several months. McKenzie is said to have been trying to effect a reconciliation.

HALL GLAD TO TAKE OFFICE

Thomas Hall, Congressman-elect from the Second North Dakota district, today expressed satisfaction for the first time that unofficial returns had definitely established his election.

"I am very much pleased by the latest returns showing my election," said Mr. Hall. "I hope to be of some service to our people. I promise the same close attention to that office I have given the office of Secretary of State. I expected to be checked out here in time to take my seat in Congress December 1."

Mr. Hall has made no appointment of private secretary, and said he had not given this any thought.

Though he has been blind for nearly 10 years, John Sargent of Rempstone, England, has just completed 60 years of service as a pastor.

8-HOUR LAW APPLIES TO BARBER SHOPS

The North Dakota eight-hour law for women employes applies to those in barber shops and hairdressing establishments, according to an opinion given Miss Dorothy Blanding, secretary, Minimum Wage Commission, by Philip Elliott, Assistant Attorney-General.

"It is my belief that the eight-hour law applies to such employes and that such establishments are within the category of mechanical establishments included in the act," the opinion says.

WINS SHERIFF RACE IN SHORT STICKER FIGHT

A. R. Marshall Wins Out in Hot County Fight in Williams County

OTHER CO. ELECTIONS

Hospital Proposition Is Defeated in Kidder County Vote

Williston, N. D., Nov. 10.—One of the most spectacular county election fights in the state was staged in Williams county. A. R. Marshall did the unusual when he was elected sheriff of Williams county on a "sticker" campaign. He was brought out in the race about four weeks before the election, his chief backer being the Williams County Farmers Press, Nonpartisan, which charged the present sheriff with lax law enforcement.

Sorlie ran far ahead of Coolidge in this strong Nonpartisan League county. A comparison shows that in 42 precincts out of 70 in the county LaFollette had 1,880 votes to 1,414 for Coolidge, and for Governor Sorlie had 2,211 to 995 for Halvorson. Ernest A. Francis, editor of the League paper, was elected states attorney in another hot county fight. Francis was assailed in a libel suit recently.

Reports to Williston said that Watford City lost the county seat fight in McKenzie county, and the county seat will remain at Schafer.

SCHWARTZ REELECTED

Zap, N. D., Nov. 10.—David Schwartz, incumbent, was reelected states attorney of Mercer county over J. N. McCarter. With four precincts missing from the totals, Schwartz had 1,144 votes to 810 for McCarter. Paul Leupp was named auditor, Giffey register of deeds, Haevischer clerk of court, Thomas superintendent of schools, Hazen Star official paper.

BIG VOTE CAST

Ft. Yates, N. D., Nov. 10.—Sioux county cast its largest vote in last Tuesday's election. Winners in the county included: Mrs. Sarah M. Walter over L. L. Primeau for treasurer by 23 votes. Miss E. Helen Iorns was named county superintendent, A. G. McBeede states attorney, receiving 576 votes to 445 for George Purchase and 244 for E. S. Johnson on incomplete returns; James Caddell, sheriff; J. C. Shields, register of deeds; J. M. Carignan Jr., county judge; Sioux County Pioneer, official peper.

BROTHERS ELECTED

New England, N. D., Nov. 10.—Robert M. LaFollette didn't lose North Dakota because of Hettinger county. The Hettinger County Herald says: "Robert M. LaFollette came out of Hettinger county with a majority of 355 votes. However, he failed to hold his lead in the United States." The Strechlow brothers did well. Oscar Strechlow won over Theodore Gutensohn by seven votes for county commissioner and Alfred Strechlow was elected sheriff over William Kuhl by 48 votes. Mrs. Martha E. Bratcher was named county superintendent, A. F. Noble auditor, Henry Barry clerk of court, F. L. Wagendorf register of deeds, J. K. Murray, states attorney, L. H. McCoy county judge, Mott Pioneer Press official paper. The vote on county extension work was yes 1,029, no 1,213.

KIDDER COUNTY VOTE

Steele, N. D., Nov. 10.—Charles Liessman, states attorney of Kidder county for the last two years, was defeated in the election by Arne Vinjes by a vote to 1,249 to 837. Other county officers were: Sheriff, J. E. Burton, treasurer, Nellie F. Bayne; register of deeds, J. J. Stans; county judge, Ed Hensted; auditor, Guy L. Mead; clerk of district court, Finess Powell; superintendent of schools, Ethel Hutcheson; coroner, F. B. Lodge; public administrator, Rees L. Phelps; official newspaper, Kidder County Farmers Press.

A proposal to establish a county hospital was badly defeated. The vote was 274 "yes" to 1900 "no."

SENATOR LODGE VETERAN G.O.P. SENATOR, DIES

Massachusetts Solon Succumbs After Making Hard Fight For Life

HAS LONG SERVICE

Was in Senate 31 Years—Took Part in Many Important Battles

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 10.—Henry Cabot Lodge, senior Senator from Massachusetts, Republican and leader in the Senate, who served in the Senate 31 years, is dead. The end came at the Charlesgate Hospital here shortly before midnight.

Struck down last Wednesday just as he was making a rapid convalescense from his second operation within a few months the 74-year-old Senator was unconcious during most of the day intervening before his death.

For a brief period Friday he rallied with remarkable vitality and regained conciousness for a few brief periods during which he spoke to his physician and the relatives at his bed-side. He again relapsed into a coma, however, and his strength gradually ebbed away.

Word of his death brought tribute from many places.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. William Sturgis Bigelow, a life-long friend of the Senator and a fellow member of the class of 1871 at Harvard. Burial will be in the Lodge family lot at the Mount Auburn cemetery at Cambridge.

Henry Cabot Lodge had served continuously in the United States Senate since 1893, as republican leader since August, 1918, and was one of the most prominent members of his party for a generation.

Statesman, publicist, author, lawyer and historian, Mr. Lodge's manifold activities made a wide impression on comtemporaneous events. Chief prominence, perhaps, came to him as leader of the Senate opposition to the League of Nations and the treaty of Versailles during 1918, 1919 and 1920. As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and republican floor leader, he led the contest with former President Wilson in the fight against ratification. He was the author of the "Lodge reservations" and was credited with a large part in molding the policy of the Harding administration against American entrance into the League.

He was born in leisure, but always worked. A principle laid down by him in early life was: "The first thing for a man of leisure to do, if he really wishes to count in his day and generation, is to avoid being an amateur." Although he apparently had no intention of practicing law, he worked hard and won a degree in that branch at Harvard, and then worked on a thesis on Anglo-Saxon land laws, which won him his Ph. D. In the three years that followed he was lecturer at Harvard on American history, and at the age of 30 was recognized as an authoritative historian. Among the score of books he wrote were biographies of Washington, Hamilton, and Webster.

Believed in Politics

It was his theory that every man should "give of his leisure, more or less, to politics; for it is simply good citizenship for him to do so," and along with the historical researches he became interested in comtemporary politics. His public career began with election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1879.

He was unsuccessful in his first attempt to go to Washington as a national legislator. In 1882 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman and the contest was so close that 130 ballots were required to decide the nomination of his opponent by the Congressional convention. In 1886, however, he was nominated and elected to the national House of Representatives, where he served six years before his election to the Senate.

Drew On History

His oratory was distinguished by his practice of sketching in an historical background and his facility in quoting apt historical incidents. In an interview in 1922 summing up his career he said: "I have nothing to say about my opponents, for I have never made personal or abusive attacks on anyone opposed to me. It has always seemed to me that a man in public life stood more strongly if he stood on his own merits rather than on someone else's defects. I think I may say that I have done a great deal of difficult and responsible public work. On that public work and on that record I am content to stand."

Mr. Lodge from the outset of his public career was an enthusiastic republican and an intense partisan. He was honored often by his party. An ambition to be chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, on which he served for many years, was realized when the republicans regained control of the Senate in 1919. He was then chosen majority leader, having served the republican minority previously as floor leader.

ARMED WHITES IN ASSAULT ON CAMP WORKERS

Killing of Young Worker by Negro Bandits Results in Racial Conflict

GUARD ORDERED OUT

National Guard Gives Protection to Negro Workers Who Are Assailed

Harrodsburg, Ky., Nov. 10.—(By the A. P.)—Armed white workmen drove out approximately 500 negroes from the construction camp of the Dix River Dam, eight miles from here last night, after Edward Winkley, 18, a bridegroom of only a few days, had been fatally shot by negro highwaymen.

Fifty national guardsmen arrived at the Dix River dam construction camp shortly after 8:30 o'clock this morning. One detachment remained on guard at the dam and another, on request of the contractor in charge of the dam work, was used as an escort to negro workers who were being returned. All negroes will be paid off, it was announced, and those who wish to remain will be retained on the company payroll.

Walter Chance and John Williams, both negroes, were arrested by Sheriff Walter Kennedy at the dam and hurried to Danville for safe-keeping. One of them, the sheriff said, was known as "Big Jelly Roll" and the other as "Little Jelly Roll."

The slain man detailed to two companions 10 minutes before his death how three negroes attempted to rob him and said he had been shot by "Big Jelly Roll."

News spread quickly throughout the camp and adjoining sections. White farmers and workers rushed to the dam, armed themselves with shotguns, pistols and pitchforks, and stormed the negro bunk houses. Those not armed seized stones and threw them at the negroes as they fled. Operations on the dam construction were renewed today by about half the force.

Last Wednesday was pay day at the dam camp and several robberies occurred. The thefts were reported to authorities but no arrests have been made.

SEEKS RULING ON DRY LAW

Congressman Goes on Trial in Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 10.—Before the case of John Philip Hill, the Baltimore member of Congress who is charged with violation of the Volstead act in the manufacture and possession of cider, was called in United States court today, Mr. Hill said he would not deny any of the material facts in the case.

"What we are after," he said, "is an interpretation of section 29 of the Volstead act as it applies to wine and cider. It is provided that the court may rule that the less than ½ of one percent regulation in the Volstead act applies to cider. In that case I would expect to be found guilty and the case would be carried on appeal to higher court.

"If the court agrees with officials of the prohibition unit, as evidenced by a letter in my possession from them, that the one-half of one percent does not apply, then we will expect the court to hold me not guilty."

Sets Hearing On Gray Charges

A hearing will be held on the charges brought against J. A. Gray, Ransom county auditor, by Governor Nestos, on November 14. Testimony in the case instituted in Ransom county was taken by a referee and findings submitted to Governor Nestos, who will hold the hearing as required by law.

RESERVE BANK HEAD REPORTS HEAVY VOLUME

Business Expansion Is Indicated by Lack of Unemployment in District

GRAIN MOVEM'NT HEAVY

Remarkable Receipts at Minneapolis and Head of the Lakes Shown

Minneapolis, Nov. 10.—The volume of business in this district in October, when measured by individual debits in sixteen important cities, reached the unparalleled total of $1,108,424,000, says the monthly report of John R. Mitchell, federal reserve agent, today. This was 19 percent larger than the previous record figure of October, 1920, and nearly 50 percent larger than the total in October last year. This tremendous increase is to be explained largely by the rapid and heavy movement of the bread grains, which began in September. The condition of the labor market locally indicates business expansion, because data compiled by us shows that the unemployed laborer is in a much better bargaining position now than at anytime since April of this year. The Ninth Federal Reserve District includes North and South Dakota.

Grain receipts at Minneapolis and the Head-of-the-Lakes reached the remarkable total of 98,865,652 bushels during October. The immensity of this figure is best shown by a comparison with September receipts this year of about 85,000,000 bushels and October receipts last years of less than 35,000,000 bushels. The majority of the grain marketed in October was routed to Duluth and nearly 52,000,000 bushels were shipped down the lakes during the month. Prices of all grains advanced during October, with the exception of corn, which declined 4 cents per bushel in its median price. price .

Foreign Demand Good

European demand for North American breadstuffs continued strong during October. Wheat exports from Atlantic and gulf ports, including both Canadian and American grain, amounted to 42,556,000 bushels in the four weeks ending October 25, as compared with 23,890,000 bushels in the same period last year. These figures are derived from the weekly reports of the Commercial and Financial Chronicle. Flour exports from the same ports totaled 2,185,000 barrels in the same four weeks of October, as compared with 1,217,000 barrels a year ago. Rye exports amounted to 12,476,000 bushels in the October period, while in the same period last year, they totaled only 2,795,000 bushels. As prices of wheat and rye forced upward by this export demand, European purchasers extended their orders to the less desirable grains, namely, barley and oats. Barley exports from Atlantic and gulf ports were about 5 1-2 million bushels in October, as compared with less than 2 million bushels in September and a little more than 1 million bushels in October, 1923. Similarly, in the case of oats, nearly 5 million bushels were exported in October from these ports, as compared with 2 1-2 millions in September, and only one-third of a million bushels in October a year ago.

Livestock Receipts Less

Receipts of livestock at terminals during October were one-fourth lower than last year for cattle, one-seventh lower for hogs and slightly less for sheep. The movement of feeders, as compared with last year, showed an improvement only for hogs. This means that a change of sentiment has probably taken place among hog raisers. Median prices of hogs, butcher steers and lambs at South St. Paul advanced, although some decline is normally expected for this season of the year. The steady development of dairying is shown by the greater receipts of calves than last year and by declines in their median prices greater than normal for this season.

Building Greater

Prospective building activity, as reflected by permits granted in eighteen important cities of this district, was greater in October this year than a year ago. Improved business confidence is also apparently indicated by the fact that larger projects are under way now than last year. The housing situation in the cities is satisfactory, although more dwellings are for rent now than for several years past. However, this is not reaching such a point of surplus as to break values seriously nor to retard new building. It is noteworthy that there was a greater reduction in the offerings for rent in October than is customary for this season of the year.

FIRST SITE OF EXPEDITION IS THOUGHT FOUND

Major Wright Believes He Has Discovered Location in Dickey County

TO PURSUE DISCOVERY

Jamestown, N. D., Nov. 8. What is believed to be one of the most important discoveries in North Dakota' history has been revealed by Major Dana Wright of Jamestown, member of the state historical society. Major Wright recently has consulted several old maps, made a trip of study to Dickey county, in the vicinity of Ludden, and there found what he believes unmistakable signs of the first camp site of the famous Nicolett Fremont expedition of 1839.

The exact location of the spot, he said, is on the Morgan farm on the west side of the James river, about five miles' southwest of Oakes.

Major Wright believes that with the help of his map of the territory, which is considered very accurate, an extensive study of the early explorations of North Dakota can be made to the end that gradually the exact route of these explorers may be traced across the state and eventually, thru the aid of the state historical society and similar organizations, it may be suitably marked.

The owner of the farm, Mrs. Lizzie Morgan, widow of a Civil War veteran, and a pioneer of Dickey county, according to Major Wright, has offered to donate a small tract of land to the state for a state park, where a marker can be erected to mark this spot.

"The first camp made inside Dickey county is indicated on the map as being half way between the "Fishhook" or Ludden bend of the James, and the mouth of the Matoti or Bear Den Creek, near Oakes," said Major Wright. "Near the point where the camp was located were two small coulees or ravines, entering the James from opposite sides of the latter.

Site Long Cultivated

"These points have been carefully checked with modern maps and compared with the one which the explorers prepared to accompany their report and all the evidence goes to prove that the actual camp site was on the south east quarter of section 12-130-60. This spot is on the Morgan farm on the west side of the James, about five miles southwest of Oakes. The ground on which the camp stood has been under cultivation for many years and there is no possible way of fixing the exact spot but it is interesting to know even approximately where the first exploring parties which ever operated in the state, spent their first night.

"From the Morgan farm the explorers continued on to the north along the west side of the James, to the mouth of Bone Hill creek in Dickey county from there they crossed to the north east. The Sheyenne river at Kathryn and up the Sheyenne to Devils Lake. After spending a week there they made their way southeast across Nelson, Steele, Barnes and Ransom counties and out to South Dakota again past the Dead Colt Hill in Sargent county.

"They made a complete report of their explorations in 1841 under the title of "Hydrographical survey of the upper Mississippi Valley." With their report was filed a map of the territory which they had traveled over and which was considered the most accurate to be had for many years after. This map with its French and Indian names is most interesting and is a valuable help to one making a study of the early explorations of the northwest. It is believed that with its help and the locating of the first camp site, that gradually the exact route of these explorers may be traced across the state and eventually thru the aid of the state historical society and similar organizations, it may be suitably marked.

THOMAS HALL TO TAKE POST DECEMBER 1ST

Will Succeed George M. Young as Congressman When Congress Meets

Thomas Hall, elected Congressman from the Second North Dakota District, on the face of returns, will be able to take his seat in the national House of Representatives in Washington when the Congress convenes on December 1.

While the state canvassing board does not meet until December 2 to canvass the result of the general election, it is provided that the board shall meet as soon as returns are available to canvass the result of a special election, according to M. W. Duffy, deputy secretary of state.

Since Mr. Hall was elected in the special election held Tuesday to select a successor to George M. Young, resigned, to fill the unexpired term, which continues until March 4, 1925, it is expected the canvassing board will be called together probably a week prior to December 1. Mr. Hall also was elected for the long term, extending from March 4, 1925, for two years.

The canvassing board is composed of the state auditor, treasurer, attorney general, secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction.

Mr. Hall is now completing his sixth term as Secretary of State, and when he goes to Congress will have lacked one month of 12 years in that office. It is expected that M. W. Duffy, deputy, will become Secretary of State for the month of December, and in January Robert M. Byrne will assume the office. Mr Hall had no statement to make today.

FORMER U. S. MARSHAL DIES

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 8.—Joseph E. Cronan, the second United States marshal in the North Dakota district, died at his home in Portland, Ore., Wednesday, according to word received here from his son, John Cronan of San Francisco, Calif. The funeral was held at Portland.

Mr. Cronan was one of the pioneer settlers of the Grafton district. He lived there until 1893, when he was appointed marshal by President Cleveland. He moved to Fargo and continued to make his home here until 20 years ago, when he left for Portland. While a resident of this city, he was elected to the state senate on the Democratic ticket. He is the only Democrat to be elected to that office from this district.

YOKOHAMA GROWS

Yokohama, Nov. 8.—Yokohama is gradually coming back to its pre-earthquake size. Census figures show that 340,000 persons now live in the city, while the month after the earthquake more than a year ago the population had dropped to 250,000. The present population is within 100,000 of the old mark.

None Finer Than The New Chrysler Bodies By Fisher

A new delight and a still higher satisfaction now await you in the Chrysler Six with new Body by Fisher.

Here is body-work not excelled even by the most costly custom creations.

Here is body-work of a quality specially designed to match the supreme Chrysler quality so decisively shown in performance and engineering and convenience that the whole country is talking about it.

Your special attention is called to the exceptional quality of trim, lustrous beauty of body finish, excellence and good taste of detail; also that assurance of greater riding comfort, Marshall springs in arm rests as well as seats.

Elegant, luxurious, beautiful—built expressly for Chrysler by master body-manufacturers who have no peer in the world—these new Fisher bodies now give to Chrysler the final distinction to which it is entitled.

You can be certain that nothing in the way of finer bodies can be bought, just as nothing finer than Chrysler performance exists in the automobile industry.

SPAIN SEETHES WITH TROUBLE

Strict Censorship Is Established by Government

Paris, Nov. 10.—(By the A. P.)—The situation in Spain is by no means as happy as Spanish official circles wish the outside world to believe, in the opinion of those well informed here. A censorship so effective that only the most meager news seeps through is in operation but it is pointed out that 42 persons arrested along the border by French authorities after the sanguinary fray at Vera, in the Spanish province of Navarre, were picked up at both extremities of the frontier and this is taken to indicate the existence of a movement related to the troubles in Barcelona, timed to start simultaneously in several places.

Both the Spanish Constitutional opposition and Republican party condemned the movement which seems to be syndicalistic. It is obvious not directed against the life of General Rivera, the Spanish premier, and military dictator, as he is in Morocco, with his army opposing the rebel tribesmen.

French secret service officials, however, are convinced that the Spaniards arrested were concerned in a plot against the military dictatorship.

TWO EXECUTED

Barcelona, Spain, Nov. 10.—Joseph Macer and Jean Montego were executed today after having been courtmartialled for taking part in the disturbances Thursday when one policeman was killed and another wounded.

NEW CHINESE WAR IS SEEN

General Wu Pei-Fu to Return, He Asserts

Chefoo, China, Nov. 10.—Wu Pei-fu, deposed commander-in-chief of the Peking military forces, who is on board a transport here, announced today his intention of going to the south to reassemble his forces and return later at the head of a punitive expedition.

HOLD CONFERENCE

London, Nov. 10.—Sun Yat Sen, head of the government of southern China, arrived today at Tienstin, where a conference of several of the principle figures opposed to the former military regime in Peking is about to be held, says a dispatch from Tienstin.

Chang Tso-lin, the Manchurian war lord, also arrived for the conference.

NOTICE

Elks Band members should meet at Elks Hall at 1:15 sharp Tuesday, Nov. 11 for parade duty.

Stock Trading Volume High

New York, Nov. 10.—Enormous profit-taking sales this afternoon temporarily checked the bull movement in the stock market which had made a terrific pace since Friday morning but not until two score stocks, half of them rails, had attained new peak prices for the year. The first four hours trading indicated that total sales for the day might reach 2,500,000 shares.

The Gland That Causes Men To Get Up at Night

The gland that causes getting up at night is known as the prostate and is a notorious trouble maker. It is estimated that 65 out of every 100 men past 40, and many under that age, have prostate trouble, which, if unchecked, often leads to a serious operation. The prostate surrounds the neck of the bladder like a washer. Naturally, when the bladder becomes inflamed by poisons which the kidneys filter out of the blood, the irritation spreads to the prostate. As the gland swells, it closes the neck of the bladder, making urination difficult and painful and causing pains in the back, head and legs.

An easy way to treat these annoying and dangerous conditions is to take one or two renex pills after each meal. The renex formula has been victorious in thousands of such cases. One authority says it also has a valuable tonic effect. Anybody wishing to prove the value of the formula can get a full-size, two-dollar treatment of the pills under a money-back guarantee by sending the attached coupon to the address given therein. If you prefer, you can pay the postman two dollars and postage on delivery, instead of sending the money with your order. In any case, if you report within ten days that you are not entirely satisfied, the purchase price will be refunded at once, upon request. This is a thoroughly reliable company, so you need not hesitate about ordering the renex if you need it.

GUARANTEE COUPON

Gentlemen: Send me a regular-size Renex treatment, as guaranteed. Unless you find $2, enclosed, I will pay $2, and postage on delivery; but you are to refund the purchase price at once, upon request, if I report within 10 days that I am not satisfied.

Government costs the United States $10,000,000,000 a year.

It costs YOU $100 a year.

Approximately one-sixth of the total income of all the Americans in continental United States is taken by the government—city, county, state, federal.

YOU, therefore, work one day a week for government.

The average family of five pays $500 a year into the public treasury.

And the burden is increasing. Rising local taxes offset reduced federal levies.

* * *

The average family pays enough annually in taxes to make first payment on a small home, or to buy a light automobile.

But that is not all.

YOUR share of the public debt is $320; your family's share, $1600. Government has contracted this debt for you. You pay the interest. You will retire the principal.

The public debt totals $320,000,000,000. The federal government has trimmed its debt since the war, but bond issues of cities, counties and states shove the total ever higher.

* * *

You are always paying taxes, every day, every week.

Usually you don't know when you are paying them.

When you buy a cigaret you pay three-tenths of a cent in taxes. The total of all these three-tenths of a cent collected from you and other Americans is more than two hundred million dollars a year.

You pay taxes indirectly when you buy a steak at the butcher shop—the taxes of the cattle grower, of the railroad, the meat packing plant, of the automobiles that hauled the meat, of the butcher who sold it to you.

* * *

Federal taxes of the direct variety have gone down of late.

Since 1921 the national government has reduced its operating expenses by two billion dollars. It has also paid off two and three-quarter billion dollars of the national debt, thus lopping $130,000,000 from interest payment.

Income taxes have been trimmed, but internal and indirect taxes remain.

Tariff is a tax, denounced by Democrats as so exhorbitantly high it raises the cost of living, defended by Republicans as a protection for American workers and American industries.

* * *

But federal taxes are the least of your worries.

Municipal, county and state taxes—they get your money.

Federal taxes, at least the direct ones, have been going down, but local taxes have set new altitude records in all parts of the country.

Census bureau figures show that since 1912 state taxes have increased 183 per cent, county taxes 142 per cent and city taxes 80 per cent.

Principal reason for this increase is in the sale of bonds. Local and state governments have trebled their bonded indebtedness since 1912.

It is so easy to finance a public project by a bond issue. But every building built that way is paid for twice—paid for once in bond interest, once in retiring the principal.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

BALDWIN

The sale which was held at the Nordstrom farm Saturday was fairly well attended and things sold fairly well. There are several other sales dated for the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. William Claridge who live near Fort Lincoln were callers in this district the latter part of the week.

William Dohn, well known butcher of Bismarck was looking after business affairs here last week.

Mr. Beers who has been drilling a well on the Carl Schultz farm has completed his work. A fine stream of water was struck at a depth of one hundred ninety feet which is considerably less than other wells in the vicinity.

Mr. Lobach is drilling a well on the George Larson place east of town.

A car of fine dairy cows, Holstein and Jerseys arrived a few days ago and was distributed among local farmers.

Albin Nordstrom and family will take possession of the farm east of town which they have rented within a short time.

The Baldwin school held a Fun Fest and Hallowe'en party at the school house Friday evening. The event which was the finish of the subscription campaign for the Country Gentleman was enjoyed to the fullest extent. The school divided into two sides and the losing side stood treat to the winners. A lunch of doughnuts, sandwiches, cakes and candy was served. All kinds of games and stunts were indulged in and the evening was one long to be remembered. Altogether nearly thirty subscriptions to the Country Gentleman were secured one half the money being retained by the school. The funds will probably be used for athletic purposes.

The show which was staged by Pull Bros. in the Baldwin Hall Friday evening drew a large crowd in this and surrounding districts. The entertainment was in the nature of a slight of hand performance and other features. There were also prize packages of candy and other thngs for the young folks.

Baldwin presented a busy appearance on election day. Both of the townships forming the town voted here, Glenview on the west voted at the school house and Crofte township folks voted at the hall. LaFollette and Sorlie got the majority of the votes in this district.

Quite a few from this district attended the sale which was held at the Peter Fischer farm in Francis township Monday.

Mr. Timmer, district manager for the Fort Wayne Silk and Woolen Mills was transacting business in town the fore part of the week.

A number of local folks motored to Bismarck Tuesday evening to attend the entertainment and get election returns at independent headquarters.

We were surprised when Tuesday's Tribune came to get the election returns so early. The Tribune staff must have worked the greater part of the night to give such excellent service.

Mr. Joe Poole has taken the position of grain buyer at the Farmer's elevator and has decided to cut down farming. The land just east of town which Mr. Poole has farmed for several years has been rented by John Monroe.

Duncan McGillis, well known business man of the capital city and owner of a ranch near Baldwin was looking after business matters here this week. Mr. McGillis disposed of his personal property at an auction sale last week and has decided to quit the farming game. Elmer Ames will probably remain at the ranch during the winter and look after things. The state of Mr. McGillis health commands that he live a less strenuous life.

Ernest Baumgart has returned from a short visit with relatives in the capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Racek and Mrs. Van Solen, the mother of Mr. Racek were Sunday afternoon callers at the Matt Hettich home near Arnold. They all live in Mandan. Mr. Hettich visited at the Richard Borner home Sunday evening.

Albin Thysell, farmer resident of Naughton township was a caller here recently. Mr. Thysell says the farmers of this district nearly all belong to the Wheat Growers Association and have pooled their wheat.

Miss Mary Andeen has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in the capital city.

A Chevrolet car belonging to Mr. Gehrke was destroyed by fire last week.

Baldwin again has a barber. Bob Ward arrived recently and is busy acting as tonsorial artist to all who wish his services.

Pat Nixon, former resident of Baldwin who has been making an extensive visit with relatives in Washington and other northwestern points has returned from the West and spent the week end in town visiting among former cronies.

Owing to the fact that the school building was used for election purposes the school children had a holiday Tuesday.

Mrs. William Borner has returned from a several days visit with her mother Mrs. Mary Pink and other relatives in the capital city.

A great deal of the corn in this district failed to mature on account of early frosts and is in poor condition for any purpose. This is of the late varieties, the early corn is all in good shape and will make a good yield. There has been hardly any corn husking done here as yet.

Threshing in this district is about finished up, a few jobs still remain which are being rapidly taken care of. The price of wheat has fallen considerably and much of the wheat is bringing low grades on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

CLEAR LAKE

Win Koterba, Olaf Olauson, Albert Christiansen, and Mrs. Martin Olauson autoed to Bismarck last week, spending Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Olauson visited with her sister at Mandan.

Mr. Reeder received the message on Friday evening stating the death of his mother at Sleepyeye, Minn. Mr. Reeder departed on the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Schoon spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Basson.

Mrs. Clifford Nelson and little son Harvey were pleasant callers at the B. F. Paslay home on Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Nelson spent Saturday evening until Sunday at the L. B. Olson home.

Relatives, who have been visiting at the Ed. Schmidkunz home, departed by car for their respective homes at South Dakota, on Friday.

E. O. Johnson and his son Walter have departed for their homes in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Belile and family spent several days visiting at the homes of close relatives at Dunn Center.

Mrs. Frank Shaffer spent Friday until Sunday at the home of her son George Shaffer of Steele.

Miss Hazel Nelson has returned home after spending a week assisting Mrs. Alden Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hargrave entertained at a wild goose supper last Thursday evening the following members, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shafer, Mrs. Jessie Olson, Miss Viola Hargrave and Ruben Stromberg.

Mrs. George Erickson, teacher of Christiania School No. 3, spent her week end at her home in Bismarck.

Andy Lein, Clarence Olson and Vernon Brenden are the owners of Ford cars purchased recently.

The Ladies Aid of Lein will meet at the home of Mrs. Severt Brenden on Wednesday afternoon Nov. 12, and on the following Sunday Nov. 16 she will entertain the Young Peoples Society.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lein and part of the family will leave today for a visit at Rothsay, Minn. The trip being made by their new sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Brenden, Vernon Brenden, Mrs. Ed. Schmidkunz, Mrs. O. N. Nelson and Mrs. Henry Nelson, partook lunch with Mrs. L. B. Olson on Tuesday.

LEIN ITEMS

Miss Inga Olson spent the week end with Miss Peters at the H. L. Hanson home.

The pupils of Lein school No. 3 gave a Hallowe'en program and party Friday evening. After a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served, the rest of the evening was spent in visiting and listening to the radio which Mr. Elmer Josephson very kindly installed for the evening.

Olga Rise was a business caller in Wilton Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wantaja have as their guests, friends from So. Dakota.

Rudolph Harju and wife and L. O. Bates motored to Bismarck Friday, returning the same evening.

B. N. Leih, wife and daughters, Constance and Catherine, called at the Barkman home Sunday.

Elmer Josephson who was in Bismarck Thursday brought home a Radiolo for which he now has the agency. Mr. Heimo Surtola now has one installed.

Lydia Olmstad spent Tuesday evening at the home of her pupil, Dorothy Barkman.

M. A. Lien and John Beyer were business callers in this community on Monday.

WILTON

Election Day dawned clear and bright and Wilton cast its usual heavy vote at the polls. Both Mr. LaFollette anud Mr. Coolidge were remembered. Chapin the mining village being a league territory polled its usual vote. For governor, Mr. Sorlie received the largest vote. Other candidates returns are not known.

Emil Hilken who has employment on a threshing rig south of town spent the weekend at his home in Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Eastman have for their guest this week, Mr. A. V. Marcellus, former merchant of the Lignite city but now conducting a real estate agency in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Marcellus who has large business interests in this territory is well pleased with his home in the West and he and his wife are both enjoying the best of health.

Hallowe'en was fairly quiet this year no doubt owing to the fact that the city council gave warning that any trespassing or damages done to property would be instantly punished. The little folks amused themselves the fore part of the evening by playing pranks on each other and making the usual amount of noise. Several Hallowe'en social parties were given by the younger set.

Last Sunday morning, Rev. C. A. Armstrong of Fargo, state superintendent of the North Dakota Council of religious education had charge of church services at Grand theatre, later going to Wing where he also gave an address on the necessity of religious instruction for our children. Rev. Armstrong is a most convincing and interesting speaker and a number of people were present to hear his address. Among other things, Rev. Armstrong stated that religious instruction was an absolute necessity if we were to preserve the nation and instill the thoughts of true patriotism and good citizenry into the hearts of the younger generation.

George Cole, local miner spent part of the week on business in the capital city.

J. M. Thompson, well known auctioneer and farmer of Rock Hill was a recent caller here. Mr. Thompson recently purchased a flock of about two hundred sheep which were shipped in from western Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner who have been making their home near the city have left for their new home at Mercer.

Fred McFaddie is spending some time with relatives in Iowa, going there from Saint Paul where he shipped a car of hogs and cattle last week.

Oscar Dahl has returned from Dogden and vicinity where he spent six weeks on a threshing rig. Oscar said the crops around Dogden had put smiles on the farmer's faces and money in their pockets.

Mrs. L. E. Nugent has returned home from Bismarck where she underwent an operation for nasal trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Richardson and granddaughter, Miss Ruby Guthrie who have been spending several weeks visiting among relatives here and at Regan have departed for their home at Cranden, Wisconsin. Mr. Richardson is station agent at his point.

Daniel Johnson and Miss Frances Prsa, two of Wilton's most popular young people surprised their many friends by being quietly married last Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Judge H. P. Miller in his study at Washburn in the presence of a few friends of the contracting couple. The attendants were Fred Brown and Miss Agnes Eble. Mr. Johnson and bride are making their home for the present with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Johnson. Best wishes for a long and happy life of wedded bliss are offered by their many friends.

Mrs. Simon Jahr who has been visiting among former friends in the Lignite City has returned to her home at Spokane. During the visit of Mrs. Jahr here a number of social affairs were given in her honor.

Wednesday evening the Ladies Aid held their regular meeting in the Legion rooms, later serving a supper of baked beans, pumpkin pie, rolls and coffee. A nice sum was realized from the supper which will be put to good use.

The word contest which is being conducted by Ferry's Drug Store is drawing a great deal of attention. A lot of children are trying to see who can win the prizes, as well as the older people. The result of the contest will be announced later with the names of the prize winners.

Wilton folks are hoping that the initiated measure lowering school taxes in the state will be defeated at the election. It had been freely predicted that if this vicious measure is enacted into law we can say good-bye to our high school, and so can a lot of other small towns in the state. While we all favor lower taxes, none of us wish to have them come at the expense of our schools.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Thelan are spending some time in Saint Paul. While Dr. Thelan looks after matters of a business nature his wife will visit among Saint Paul friends, and also spend some time with her daughter, Miss Gretchen Thelan, who is a student at Saint Catherine's school near that city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilde have returned from Elizabeth, Minnesota, where they have been spending some time visiting with relatives.

A number of local folks motored to Bismarck Tuesday evening to attend the entertainment and get election returns at independent headquarters.

We were surprised when Tuesday's Tribune came to get the election returns so early. The Tribune staff must have worked the greater part of the night to give such excellent service.

Mr. Joe Poole has taken the position of grain buyer at the Farmer's elevator and has decided to cut down farming. The land just east of town which Mr. Poole has farmed for several years has been rented by John Monroe.

Duncan McGillis, well known business man of the capital city and owner of a ranch near Baldwin was looking after business matters here this week. Mr. McGillis disposed of his personal property at an auction sale last week and has decided to quit the farming game. Elmer Anes will [illegible] remain at the ranch during the winter and look after things, the state of Mr. McGillis health [illegible] that he live a less strenuous life.

[illegible] B[illegible]mgart has returned from a short visit with relatives in the capital city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Racek and Mrs. Van Solen, the mother of Mr. Racek were Sunday afternoon callers at the Matt Hettich home near Arnold. They [illegible] live in Mandan. Mr. Hettich visited at the Richard Borner home Sunday evening.

Albin Thysell, former resident of Naughton township was a caller here recently. Mr. Thysell says the farmers of this district nearly all belong to the Wheat Growers Association and have pooled their wheat.

Mrs. Mary Andeen has returned from a pleasant visit with friends in the capital city.

A Chevrolet car belonging to Mr. Gehrke was destroyed by fire last week.

Baldwin again has a barber. Bob Ward arrived recently and is busy acting as tonsorial artist to all who wish his services.

Pat Nixon, former resident of Bald~~win who has been making an exten~~sive visit with relatives in Washington and other northwestern points has returned from the West and spent the week end in town visiting among former cronies.

Owing to the fact that the school building was used for election purposes the school children had a holiday Tuesday.

Mrs. William Borner has returned from a several days visit with her mother Mrs. Mary Pink and other relatives in the capital city.

A great deal of the corn in this district failed to mature on account of early frosts and is in poor condition for any purpose. This is of the late varieties, the early corn is all in good shape and will make a good yield. There has been hardly any corn husking done here as yet.

Threshing in this district is about finished up, a few jobs still remain which are being rapidly taken care of. The price of wheat has fallen considerably and much of the wheat is bringing low grades on account of unfavorable weather conditions.

CLEAR LAKE

Win Koterba, Olaf Olauson, Albert Christiansen, and Mrs. Martin Olauson autoed to Bismarck last week, spending Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Olauson visited with her sister at Mandan.

Mr. Reeder received the message on Friday evening stating the death of his mother at Sleepyeye, Minn. Mr. Reeder departed on the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Schoon spent Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Basson.

Mrs. Clifford Nelson and little son Harvey were pleasant callers at the B. F. Paslay home on Saturday.

Mrs. Henry Nelson spent Saturday evening until Sunday at the L. B. Olson home.

Relatives, who have been visiting at the Ed. Schmidkunz home, departed by car for their respective homes at South Dakota, on Friday.

E. O. Johnson and his son Walter have departed for their homes in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Belile and family spent several days visiting at the homes of close relatives at Dunn Center.

Mrs. Frank Shaffer spent Friday until Sunday at the home of her son George Shaffer of Steele.

Miss Hazel Nelson has returned home after spending a week assisting Mrs. Alden Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hargrave entertained at a wild goose supper last Thursday evening the following members, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shafer, Mrs. Jessie Olson, Miss Viola Hargrave and Ruben Stromberg.

Mrs. George Erickson, teacher of Christiania School No. 3, spent her week end at her home in Bismarck.

Andy Lein, Clarence Olson and Vernon Brenden are the owners of Ford cars purchased recently.

The Ladies Aid of Lein will meet at the home of Mrs. Severt Brenden on Wednesday afternoon Nov. 12, and on the following Sunday Nov. 16 she will entertain the Young Peoples Society.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lein and part of the family will leave today for a visit at Rothsay, Minn. The trip being made by their new sedan.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Brenden, Vernon Brenden, Mrs. Ed. Schmidkunz, Mrs. O. N. Nelson and Mrs. Henry Nelson, partook lunch with Mrs. L. B. Olson on Tuesday.

LEIN ITEMS

Miss Inga Olson spent the week end with Miss Peters at the H. L. Hunson home.

The pupils of Lein school No. 3 gave a Hallowe'en program and party Friday evening. After a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served, the rest of the evening was spent in visiting and listening to the radio which Mr. Elmer Josephson very kindly installed for the evening.

Olga Rise was a business caller in Wilton Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wantajn have as their guests, friends from So. Dakota.

Rudolph Hauju and wife and L. O. Bates motored to Bismarck Friday, returning the same evening.

R. N. Leib, wife and daughters, Constance and Catherine, called at the Barkman home Sunday.

Elmer Josephson who was in Bismarck Thursday brought home a Radiola for which he now has the agency. Mr. Heimo Surtola now has one installed.

Lydia Olmstad spent Tuesday evening at the home of her pupil, Dorothy Barkman.

M. A. Lien and John Beyer were business callers in this community on Monday.

WILTON

Election Day dawned clear and bright and Wilton cast its usual heavy vote at the polls. Both Mr. LaFollette and Mr. Coolidge were remembered. Chapin the mining village being a league territory polled its usual vote. For governor, Mr. Sorlie received the largest vote. Other candidates returns are not known.

Emil Hilken who has employment on a threshing rig south of town spent the weekend at his home in Wilton.

Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Eastman have for their guest this week, Mr. A. V. Marcellus, former merchant of the Lignite city but now conducting a real estate agency in Los Angeles, California. Mr. Marcellus who has large business interests in this territory is well pleased with his home in the West and he and his wife are both enjoying the best of health.

Hallowe'en was fairly quiet this year no doubt owing to the fact that the city council gave warning that any trespassing or damages done to property would be instantly punished. The little folks amused themselves the fore part of the evening by playing pranks on each other and making the usual amount of noise. Several Hallowe'en social parties were given by the younger set.

Last Sunday morning, Rev. C. A. Armstrong of Fargo, state superintendent of the North Dakota Council of religious education had charge of church services at Grand theatre, later going to Wing where he also gave an address on the necessity of religious instruction for our children. Rev. Armstrong is a most convincing and interesting speaker and a number of people were present to hear his address. Among other things, Rev. Armstrong stated that religious instruction was an absolute necessity if we were to preserve the nation and instill the thoughts of true patriotism and good citizenry into the hearts of the younger generation.

George Cole, local miner spent part of the week on business in the capital city.

J. M. Thompson, well known auctioneer and farmer of Rock Hill was a recent caller here. Mr. Thompson recently purchased a flock of about two hundred sheep which were shipped in from western Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gardner who have been making their home near the city have left for their new home at Mercer.

Fred McFaddie is spending some time with relatives in Iowa, going there from Saint Paul where he shipped a car of hogs and cattle last week.

Oscar Dahl has returned from Degden and vicinity where he spent six weeks on a threshing rig. Oscar said the crops around Dogden had put smiles on the farmer's faces and money in their pockets.

Mrs. L. E. Nugent has returned home from Bismarck where she underwent an operation for nasal trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Richardson and granddaughter, Miss Ruby Guthrie who have been spending several weeks visiting among relatives here and at Regan have departed for their home at Cranden, Wisconsin. Mr. Richardson is station agent at his point.

Daniel Johnson and Miss Frances Prsa, two of Wilton's most popular young people surprised their many friends by being quietly married last Tuesday evening. The ceremony was performed by Judge H. P. Miller in his study at Washburn in the presence of a few friends of the contracting couple. The attendants were Fred Brown and Miss Agnes Eble. Mr. Johnson and bride are making their home for the present with the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Johnson. Best wishes for a long and happy life of wedded bliss are offered by their many friends.

Mrs. Simon Jahr who has been visiting among former friends in the Lignite City has returned to her home at Spokane. During the visit of Mrs. Jahr here a number of social affairs were given in her honor.

Wednesday evening the Ladies Aid held their regular meeting in the Legion rooms, later serving a supper of baked beans, pumpkin pie, rolls and coffee. A nice sum was realized from the supper which will be put to good use.

The word contest which is being conducted by Ferry's Drug Store is drawing a great deal of attention. A lot of children are trying to see who can win the prizes, as well as the older people. The result of the contest will be announced later with the names of the prize winners.

Wilton folks are hoping that the initiated measure lowering school taxes in the state will be defeated at the election. It had been freely predicted that if this vicious measure is enacted into law we can say good-bye to our high school, and so can a lot of other small towns in the state. While we all favor lower taxes, none of us wish to have them come at the expense of our schools.

Dr. and Mrs. W. P. Thelan are spending some time in Saint Paul. While Dr. Thelan looks after matters of a business nature his wife will visit among Saint Paul friends, and also spend some time with her daughter, Miss Gretchen Thelan, who is a student at Saint Catherine's school near that city.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wilde have returned from Elizabeth, Minnesota, where they have been spending some time visiting with relatives.

"It gave me intense agony to walk three blocks"—Writes Mrs. J- W- Duluth, Minn.

"About six years ago," writes Mrs. J-W-, "I was very much afraid that I was going to be a cripple. Beginning in my arches, the pain reached to my knees, that is, if I was on my feet for more than an hour. I felt pretty badly about it. I was a young woman and couldn't even do my own housework. It gave me intense agony to walk three blocks on concrete."

A FRIEND recommended Ground Gripper Shoes to Mrs. J-W-. Her letter continues, "I lost no time in getting a pair. My feet never hurt me any more. The salesman told me that Ground Gripper Shoes would correct my foot troubles. I hardly believed him, but they have done just that."

End your foot troubles by wearing Ground Grippers.

The three principal causes of foot troubles are eliminated by the Ground Gripper design which includes, first, the straight inner line, which gives more room for your big toe and relieves pressure; second, the flexible arch, which helps the arch of your foot to cure itself; and third, the rotor heel, which corrects the unnatural tendency to toe out.

Only the Ground Gripper Shoe gives you all three of these specific foot-helps.

All-Star Cast Was Chosen For 'Lost Battalion'

In filming the marvelous story of the Lost Battalion a story which rivals the deeds of knights of old and the epics of Greece and Rome, an all-star cast was selected by Edward A. McManus, famous motion picture producer. Among the stars who were secured are Gaston Glass, Helen Ferguson, Sidney D'Albrook, Jack McLean, Blanche Davenport and Tammany Young.

The late Colonel Charles W. Whittlesey, commander of the Lost Battalion, himself appears in the picture, which will be shown under the auspices of the Lloyd Spetz Post of the American Leagion at the Auditorium tonight and Tuesday. Whittlesey assisted in directing the production.

With him appear Captain George McMurty, his second in command, and other officers and men of the gallant little band who were for six days cut off by the German forces from the American army in the Argonne forest. Every effort was made to make the production faithful in the minutest detail to the great historic event which it records.

The result is a wonderful picture which has been acclaimed as a splendid lesson in Americanism. The heroic resistance of this little group has already been enshrined in the history of the nation. It will stand always as a memorial to the American spirit and a lesson, taught by the men of many bloods who formed the battalion, in devotion to America at its best and noblest.

Late Returns Add To Totals Of Candidates

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 10.—Returns from 2,142 precincts out of 2,160 in North Dakota gave Coolidge 94,584; LaFollette 89,180 Davis 13,809; Foster 307.

Returns from 2,078 precincts on Governor give Halvorson 85,114; Sorlie 98,512.

Returns from 2,079 precincts on the tax bill gave for passage 92,670; against 98,789.

With but 15 additional precincts to report, Thomas Hall held his lead over Gerald P. Nye of Cooperstown in the close second district short term contest by 1,589. Nye cannot overtake Hall as he would have to gain 106 votes per precinct and records show the outstanding precincts have but approximately 35 to 45 votes each.

NEW BUYING BY EUROPE HELPS GRAIN PRICES

Firm Tone Developed During Week Is Ascribed to Buying, Crop Reports

MUCH WHEAT IS SOLD

Stock on Farms Lower Than Usual This Time of Year, Says U. S. Report

Washington, Nov. 10.—The grain market developed a firm tone during the week ending Nov. 8th, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Department of Agriculture, and wheat and rye prices advanced to near the high point of the crop reached about the middle of October. The barley market remained steady while flax gained about 10 cents per bushel. Corn and oats also were firm.

Renewed export buying of good volume, together with a falling off in the country movement was the principal strengthening factor in the wheat and rye markets. Foreign crop and market conditions were also less favorable. Continued dry weather in Argentina is causing some deterioration in crop prospects in that country, and Argentine exporters were reported to be buying back forward contracts in London.

While no definite figures are available, it appears that more wheat than usual has been sold from the farms, and that farm stocks are materially less than at this time last year, notwithstanding the increased production. Altogether the position of the wheat market has become firm, the only weakening factor of importance being the large visible supply, totaling around 90,000,000 bushels.

Exports to date total nearly 100,000,000 bushels, compared with about half that amount for the same period last year. Flour production has consumed about 15,000,000 bushels more wheat than during the first four months of last year, but most of this has been accounted for in the increased exports.

Cash Wheat Up

Cash wheat prices followed the futures and advanced about 10 cents per bushel during the week. No. 1 hard spring and No. 1 dark northern were quoted at the Dec. price to 20 cents over, but the bulk of the sales were around 9 to 12 cents over the December price at Minneapolis. Receipts fell off slightly at both Minneapolis and Duluth, but were still of large volume. Durum prices were also higher showing a gain of about 5 3-4 cents at Duluth for the week ending Friday.

There was a more active demand for hard winter wheat both from mills and exporters. Export bids advanced to around 10 cents over the Chicago December price f. o. b. vessel at the Gulf for No. 2 hard winter wheat for immediate shipment. Heavier sales on these bids were reported, which somewhat relieved the congestion at Kansas City and other hard winter wheat markets. Interior mills were more active buyers because of the possibility of a shortage of wheat for their local requirements later in the crop year caused by the heavy movement of wheat from the farms at this time. Soft winter wheat also shared in the advance of spring and hard winter, but milling demand was of smaller volume because of a less active demand for soft winter wheat flour.

Rye Higher

Higher prices for rye in the European markets were reflected in a more active demand and higher prices for American rye. Export sales were again large and elevator interests were also buying grain to fill contracts for shipment. The position of the rye market continues very firm because of the smaller world supply.

There was an increased movement of new crop during the week, but receipts were relatively small. Receipts of old corn also were not large with the demand more active than for sometime. Cash prices advanced 2 to 3 cents in most of the markets. No. 2 yellow selling over a range of from about $1.07 at Minneapolis and Kansas City to $1.11 at Chicago and St. Louis. New corn is selling at rather wide discounts under the old, depending on condition and moisture content. Iowa is reported to be buying corn out of Kansas City, which is unusual but reflects the poor condition of the crop in that state.

Demand for Oats

There was some improvement in the demand for oats, and prices advanced 2 to 3 cents. Stocks, however, continue large, although the country movement has become somewhat smaller. Eastern buyers were more active and there was some export inquiry. Oats exports, however, have not been large, totaling only about 3,500,000 bushels.

The barley market was dull during the early part of the week. Receipts were heavy and the lack of elevator space created weakness in the cash market situation. Later in the week, however, barley prices advanced with other grains and showed a good carrying profit. This created a better demand and offerings were well absorbed. December barley at Minneapolis closed on Friday at 84 7-8 cents, with cash barley quoted at 66 to 80 cents.

Argentine Crop Outlook

Further unfavorable news from the Argentine crop and demand for linseed oil were the strengthening factors in the flax market. Rain and snow in Canada also caught some of the flax unthreshed, and it is now reported that some of this will probably not be threshed until spring. Flax future prices at Minneapolis advanced 10 cents for the week and closed on Friday at $2.55, for the December. Cash prices, however, did not follow the full advance of the futures, and No. 1 seed sold at around $2.52 to $2.54 per bushels.

The flax consumption in Europe and the United States is estimated at about 85,000,000 bushels, making no allowance for seed requirements. According to the latest estimates the supply this year will total only about 79,600,000 bushels, distributed as follows: United States 29,600,000, bushels Canada 6,000,000 bushels, India 16,000,000 bushels, and Argentina 28,000,000 bushels.

STATE'S MILL LOSSES AMOUNT TO $777,317

Rise to New High Figures, Report Up To September 30 This Year Shows

HOW IT IS FIGURED

The North Dakota State Mill and Elevator at Grand Forks, in two years of existence, lacking three weeks, has acquired a loss of $777,317.02, exclusive of taxes lost to the state, according to an analysis of figures of the board of managers of the institution. The deficit is the largest yet reported in the various reports and audits made of the institution, even though it has in the last month or two made the best showing since it opened for business.

The deficit is shown as follows by the board of managers.

Depreciation	$119,285.20
Interest on Construction Bonds	286,991.35
Interest on Operating Bonds	52,713.35
Loss in Operation	243,089.67
Accrued interest construction bonds, state treasurer's report	75,227.35
Total deficit	$777,317.02

During the period of July, August and September, according to the report, the operating deficit of the mill was $11,094.04, much reduced from the previous period, while the fixed charges bring the total loss for the period to $74,825.83.

The expense of selling the flour, which has been questioned, appears to be rather small for the period. It is figured at 25 51-100 cents on each barrel of flour, as compared to the cost of a barrel of flour—wheat milled, flour packages and twine, etc—is placed at $6.8480. The operating expense, including labor, is given as 34 60-100 cents per barrel.

The mill, on September 30, owned 660,670 bushels of wheat and 22,600 bushels of Durum, with 34,848 bushels of both in transit.

KITCHEN READY TO COOPERATE, HE ANNOUNCES

Resents Any Statement Mill and Elevator Has Been in Politics, However

VIEW ON THE ELECTION

A. G. Sorlie, Governor-elect, will be given cooperation by him as a member of the Industrial Commission and by citizens generally, without regard to faction, in any effort to serve the state, and there will be no obstruction by Independents on the Industrial Commission in "anything that is for the good of the state, Joseph A. Kitchen, Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor and member of the Industrial Commission, declared today.

Mr. Kitchen, however, takes exception to inference some have drawn from a statement by Mr. Sorlie and campaign statements to the effect that the present Industrial Commission has not endeavored to serve the state well and has played politics with the state mill.

"The state mill and elevator does not need to be taken out of politics—because it is not in politics," Mr. Kitchen said. "C. E. Austin was named general manager and he was told to hire and fire without restriction by the Industrial Commission. The only other two members of his staff named by the Commissioner were the head miller and manager of the elevator and no complaint ever was voiced over these appointments, made before Mr. Austin could assume his position.

"I feel that the mill and elevator management has been removed from politics. Mr. Austin had no connection with the state political factions, whatever. The board of managers was created by the legislature as a bar to political control. The Industrial Commission has provided the management of the mill with ample funds for operation.

"We sought the best manager we could find when we made the original appointment. It was necessary for us to wait two months or so for Mr. Austin to assume the position, because he could not be released immediately by the large institution that was employing him. We waited because we thought he was a good manager.

"At the time the mill was started, it was necessary to open it by units experimentally, and the early operation of the mill was simply to get it ready for full operation when the proper time arrived.

"Inferences in many quarters that there has been politics in the management of the mill are unfounded and I feel that they have been detrimental to the success of the institution.

"As a member of the Industrial Commission, I shall favor continuing the operation of the mill without interferences of politics, and by not hampering the management during the period of trial."

RAINCOATS SELL WELL IN SEATHWAITE

London, Nov. 10.—Seathwaite, in Borrowdale, has been picked out as the wettest place in wet England. The meteorological department has published a table of the average annual rainfalls for the last 60 years, the prize falling to Seathwaite, who has recorded an average precipitation of 129.48 inches.

Seathwaite's actions in the matter of weather have been eccentric, even for the British Isles, and during the last half century this place has recorded an average of 4.06 inches of rain in June but in August there has been an average of 8 inches.

London can claim to be one of the arid spots of England, with only 23.5 inches as an annual average.

Poisoning, Hanging Suicide Methods

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 10.—William Westby, 44, ended his life in his home here last night after making elaborate preparations so that there would be no chances of his plans failing. Westby drank an ounce of one poison and part of a glass of another poison and then hung himself. The only part of the plan that failed was Westby's attempt to burn the house after sprinkling gasoline over the room.

PRESERVES FOR BIRDS URGED

Governor Nestos Communicates with Executives

Governor R. A. Nestos of North Dakota today addressed a communication to Governor McMaster of South Dakota and Governor Dixon of Montana proposing that investigation be made to ascertain if protection could be afforded birds and game by the creation of game preserves along the Missouri River.

Already, Governor Nestos said, explaining his action, game preserves have been established along the Mississippi River. It has been found by naturalists that birds learn where they are protected and the result is that in their flight from north to south or back again the migratory birds seek refuge in the game preserves. Similar cooperation in the preservation of birds and game might be afforded by joint action of states to create preserves along the Missouri River, he said.

Special Rates Authorized To Livestock Show

Special rates of fare and one-third for the round trip have been authorized by the Northern Pacific railway for the International Live Stock exposition in Chicago, November 29 to December 6. The rates are effective from all points in Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin, and from points in Montana east of and including Glendive, and points on the Sidney and Ollie branches; also from Winnipeg, Man.

The tickets will be sold November 28 to December 3, with final return limit December 8.

Special westbound fares also have been made for the annual convention of the United States Blind Veterans of the World War which will be held in Seattle, Wash. November 10 to 15. The rate will be one fare for the round trip on the identification certificate plan. Fares also have been authorized in one direction via Seattle, Wash., and in the opposite direction via California; the destination of such tickets is San Francisco.

These tickets will be sold from points in Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon on November 6 to 10 inclusive; and from points in Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin two days earlier. All tickets bear the final return limit of December 31. Stopovers are allowed.

BRITISH TO HAVE LONG ENGAGEMENTS

London, Nov. 10—"Back to the long engagement," seems to have become a sort of slogan among the lovelorn of Britain. It would be hard to say how the change has come about but evidence accumulates that long engagements are again in fashion.

The wartime habit of the hasty marriage—not seldom followed by repentance at leisure—is surely giving away to the protracted and romantic engagements of prim days when Queen Victoria used to spank one of her grandchildren who afterwards became Emperor of Germany.

"There is a slump in the sale of engagement rings," confided a court jeweler. "Young men nowadays do not rush into three or four engagements before they marry. This, however, is balanced by the number and costliness of presents exchanged in the courtship. The most fashionable marriages are generally the result of a six to twelve month's engagement."

Bismarck Students In Activities At University

Bismarck students are taking part in various activities at the University as the following roster will show:

A contest for the selection of the ten most prominent alumni of the University of North Dakota will be held in connection with University week, which will be held beginning Nov. 24, under the management of the University Press club.

The contest will be conducted by popular vote through the Dakota Daily Student, and through the various alumni groups organized throughout the state. Pictures of the alumni thus chosen will be published in the 1926 Dacotah, according to Ralph Curry of Jamestown, editor-in-chief of the annual.

During the week, a series of speakers will appear before the various organizations of the campus, giving informational talks on the University.

Committees to carry out the plans for the week were appointed by Charles Burke, president of Press club, at the meeting of the club, held Monday afternoon, and were as follows:

Committee on speakers, Peter Burtness, Crary, and Marvin Thorstenson, Washburn; list of advantages of university, Ferdina Reinholt, Grand Forks, Robert Birdzell, Bismarck; 'Do you know' paragraphs in the Student, Charles Evans, Grand Forks; prominent alumni committee, Margaret Dickinson, Minot, Ralph Curry, Jamestown; convocation committee, John Powell, Devils Lake; radio program, Gordon Jenkins, Grand Forks; posters about "U," Lyle Webster, Webster; committee in charge of alumni activities, Armin Rohde, Grand Forks; publicity committee, (local), Chester Matteson, Enderlin, Lawrence Pray, Valley City, and Ed Thompson, St. Thomas.

Edward Alfson was elected captain of the University freshman football team, it was announced today. The big fullback will lead the first year men in the remaining games of the season. They will play Mayville normal next Friday, and may play the American Legion team within the next few weeks. The sixteen members of the squad took part in the voting, all those participating in the freshman games, being eligible to vote.

In the U. N. D.—A. C. freshman battle last Friday, Alfson was one of the stars, being one of the effective ground gainers in the 26 to 0 victory for the yearlings.

Among the 400 students of the University of North Dakota who attended the U. N. D.-A. C. game at Fargo Saturday, were the following Bismarck people: Sylvia Sell, Earl Benser, Genevieve Parsons, Marion and Ruth Staley, George Russ, and Katharine Podenstab.

Barbara Register of Bismarck was the outstanding star on the freshman hockey squad, in the first round of the hockey tournament played Monday. The freshman won a 1 to 0 victory from the sophomores, while the juniors won from the seniors with a similar score. Miss Register's playing was consistent throughout the four periods of play, and she made the only attempt to play the wing instead of the center field during the game. Hilda Hultberg, also on the freshman team, did good work.

Psi Gamma chapter of Chi Omego sorority observed the first anniversary of its installation at the University of North Dakota recently with a banquet at the Hotel Dacotah. Miss Alice Retzlaff and Miss Ruby Moen had charge of the arrangements for the observance.

Miss Lucy Johnson presided as mistress of ceremonies, and these toasts were given: "Babyhood of Psi Gamma," Ferdina Reinholt; "Youth of Psi Gamma," Myrtle McCrea; "Maturity of Psi Gamma," Edna Gustafson; "Looking Forward," Leone Langness.

The sorority colors, cardinal and straw, prevailed in the decorative scheme.

Give Shower For Miss Irene Benson

The manager and employes of the Woolworth Store entertained Saturday evening at a surprise shower for Miss Irene Benson, at her home, 228 Twelfth street, at which twenty-five guests were present. A mock wedding was a feature of the evening, the bride being, Miss Wagondorf; groom, Miss Hines; pastor, Mr. Dewall; ring-bearer, Leverne Dewall; bridesmaid, Leslie Dewall, and best man, Mr. Flow. Mr. E. J. Hugiskamp was an out-of-town guest. Miss Benson received many beautiful and useful gifts, the shower being of a miscellaneous nature. A delightful lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Armistice Day Dinner Tomorrow

The annual Armistice Day dinner will be given at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Tuesday evening at 6:40 o'clock. All ex-service men and women of the county are invited to be present, also all visiting ex-service men and women, not of this county.

The following program will be given:

Singing of America.

Invocation—Father Slag.

Community singing during the courses of the dinner with Spencer Boise as leader and L. C. Sorlien at the piano.

Address—Governor R. A. Nestos.

Vocal program—Mrs. F. J. Kepler.

Singing of Star Spangled Banner.

RECEIVES FATAL INJURY

Mrs. C. F. Kellogg, Bismarck, formerly of New Salem and Mandan, left last evening for Portland, Ore., where she was called by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Flynn, formerly of Mandan. Mrs. Flynn, now 80 years old, recently slipped and fell on the tiled floor of the bathroom at the home of her daughter Mrs. E. J. Steele, Portland, Ore., with whom she was living. She suffered a fractured hip and the injury brought on a general breakdown in health from which due to her advanced age there is small hope for her recovery. The Flynn family made its home in Mandan for many years in the early days.

FORMER BISMARCK MAN INJURED

D. F. Barry, formerly a photographer of this city, now a resident of Duluth, Minn., was injured recently when an automobile crashed into the rear end of a street car from which Mr. Barry was alighting. He is under a doctor's care but it is not known how badly he is hurt.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET

There will be a regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Business and Professional Womens Club rooms. Every member is asked to bring a glass of jell for the jelly shower for the North Dakota boys in the government Hospital at Helena, Mont.

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER

Miss Anna Marie Manning entertained for nineteen friends at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Irene Benson, who is to be a bride of this month. The evening was spent in playing games and in hemming dish towels. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Eva Braun and Peter P. Roether, both of this city, were united in marriage this morning by Father Slag. Mr. Roether is employed at the Will's Seed House and the couple will make their home in this city.

NAMED TO OFFICES

Earl Benser of Bismarck was named secretary of the freshman class at the University of North Dakota and Lois Crary, daughter of E. M. Crary of this city, was named president of the Junior class.

LEAVES TO HOLD INSTITUTE

J. W. Riley, of the Educational Department, left Sunday for Sheridan county, where he will conduct a Teachers Institute this week.

RETURNS FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Mrs. W. E. Cole returned recently from a two weeks visit in Minneapolis.

HERE ON BUSINESS

R. M. Grant of R. M. Grant and Company, bond dealers, Chicago and New York, has been here for a few days in connection with the purchase of soldier bonus certificates.

WAISTLINE IS BACK AGAIN

This snappy French dress is of black velvet printed with Roman stripes in brilliant colors. It is decidedly new in line and in feeling and very attractive as you can see. The ruffle about the waistline is noticed on many smart gowns that have recently come over from Paris and seems to indicate that a new silhouette is on the way.

TO SING AT LEGION BANQUET

Mrs. F. J. Kepler of Dawson, N. Dak., is the guest of Mrs. W. L. Smith, and will sing at the Legion Banquet to be held tomorrow evening.

TO DELIVER ADDRESS

L. F. Crawford, curator of the State Historical Society, will deliver the Armistice Day address at Washburn Tuesday.

At The Movies

AT THE CAPITOL

Some of the most thrilling airplane stunts ever filmed, are promised in "The Fighting American," Universal Jewel booked for screening in the Capitol Theatre beginning tonight. Much of the action has to do with the rollickingly daring efforts of a college youth who becomes a derelict in China. The story won the scholarship prize offered by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation, for the best scenario submitted in an inter-collegiate competition. The winner is William Elwell Oliver, University of California student. Thomas Forman directed. Pat O'Malley, Mary Astor and Raymond Hatton are in the cast.

THE ELTINGE

"Christine of the Hungry Heart," from the versatile pen of Kathleen Norris, which analyzes the soul of "Christine," follows it through travail until, after much suffering, poverty and loneliness, Christine finds that "Something" that will fill the great void in her heart, and she is happy, is the feature at the Eltinge theatre for today and Tuesday.

Christine is played by the beautiful, sparkling Florence Vidor. Miss Vidor makes of Christine a real woman—one that women will understand and men love.

Clive Brook, who came all the way from London for the part, enacts the role of the doctor, famed for his operations and cures for crippled children.

Warner Baxter is in the role of the irresponsible Stuart Knight, and Ian Keith is the poet with whom Christine elopes. Walter Hiers is the adoring brother and Dorothy Brock the little son.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE ELECTORAL MANDATE

Just what sort of a mandate the people of North Dakota gave Arthur G. Sorlie is open to question. Mr. Sorlie believes the people told him to run the mill and elevator and Bank of North Dakota. At the same time the people elected George Shafer and Joseph A. Kitchen, who are the majority on the Industrial Commission which the law says shall run the industries. Mr. Sorlie said in Bismarck he would broaden the function of the bank, but Mr. Kitchen and Mr. Shafer were pledged to keep its activities restricted. Contending factions also divided control of the legislature.

It was a result that might be expected without a definite cleavage defined for the average voter, who has'nt time to figure out all the niceties involved in the definition of position by the League and Independents. The majority of the Nonpartisans presumably are for lots of state industries — their platform said so. Most of the Independents presumably are against state industries, although their platform expressed opposition only in the broad and vague terms. And the voters chose a little bit of both, the positions, from a broad point of view which must be taken by the average voter, appear to him to be much the same.

* * * * *

Mr. Sorlie is a new sort of a "radical." He is reputed to be a successful business man, owning oil stations, banks business property, has or does own elevators and other businesses.

Mr. Sorlie takes his politics rather philosophically. He didn't show or seem to harbor bitterness over the issues. He appears to be above that. He asked for the good wishes of North Dakota and he has them in his new job. The time has passed when a prayer for failure of the opposite faction, when it is handling the taxpayers' money, is offered up immediately after election.

Mr. Sorlie has been inclined at times to act independently. His record of success in business life would indicate he has the ability to do so. He has been quoted as saying he has no political ambition and that one term as Governor is enough. If he would take this attitude and put his best into the job without listening to political advice he might do the state a lot of good. Probably so much good that the voters would demand his reelection.

* * * * *

But whether Mr. Sorlie makes a success of the mill and elevator, or does not, will not be the big question in the next campaign. Mr. Sorlie can't commit the majority of the leaders of his faction to a half-way policy on public ownership. The Independents have failed in their effort to dodge the question. The people are entitled in the next campaign to have an opportunity to choose between a faction that announces it wants to scrap the program and doesn't want office if the people don't want the program scrapped; and they are entitled to vote on the other hand for a faction that wants to keep the present industries and start some more. The question must not be whether or not the businesses pay — but whether they are right in principle. LaFollette's public ownership program was repudiated in North Dakota. There is reason to believe the state program would be, if the voters were given a chance to express themselves at a special election.

* * * * *

The industries will be before the legislature. Their losses now are heavy. There will be attempts to minimize the losses by the League, and attempts to exaggerate them by their opponents. The people are entitled to a policy that makes these industries stand on their own sudit reports which show clearly their standing on the same basis as private industries. The losses ought not to be hidden through diversion into various channels by clever accounting. The taxes lost to the state ought to be added to the financial report of the mill and elevator. That is simply honesty in presenting its status. The legislature will be presented with the problem of finding new funds for the industries. And the legislature ought to be honest enough to get the money by direct taxation, and not by pilfering the tax money from the Bank of North Dakota.

* * * * *

When Mr. Sorlie takes his office he may well consider the vote on the tax reduction bill. It failed by a small vote, perhaps the people still have faith in representative government and expect their representatives to keep taxes down. The most potent reason, however, was the feeling that it would eliminate home rule from local taxing districts, particularly country school districts, and the fear upon the part of many that it would cripple the schools. The people don't want their schools crippled, but the powerful protest vote shows they are tired of seeing money wasted either in governmental or school affairs, and they want lower taxes. The vote for the bill is as clear a mandate as the majority against the bill, and it ought to be heeded.

North Dakota is a small state. Yet there are some visionaries who would conduct its activities on the scale of the state of New York.

LEGS VS. DOLLARS

In an accident, Benjamin Warshofsky, 20, lost his left leg and the other was so badly smashed it's useless. A jury awards him $60,000. But he, formerly strong and athletic, sits glumly at the window and says: "What do I care for a coupla dollars? They won't give me back by legs."

Money is not all, though most of us never realize it until we have lost health or become crippled. If we realized, the goal of our work would be health and sound bodies, rather than pay.

PIGEON SPEED

Because it flew 187 miles at a speed faster than a mile a minute, a pigeon gets its picture in the papers and is exhibited at the electrical exposition in New York.

An airplane that can't travel faster than that is out-of-date. All this has come about in 20 years. We move fast.

Editorial Review

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

ELECTION RESULTS PROMISE MUCH FOR NORTH DAKOTA

(Jamestown Alert)

Election results in North Dakota will have a most important bearing on the future of the state. The election of Coolidge and Dawes means restoring the confidence of the outside interests, insuring the cooperation of financial support for the development of the state. The election restores North Dakota to the company of all the states that have resisted the encroachments of the socialist movement. It cannot now be said that Wisconsin and North Dakota are the only two LaFollette states in the union.

The result was to a large extent, due to the better prices obtained for grain, which was generally conceded to have followed the acceptance of the Dawes reparation plan in Europe. For this beneficial change in prices, coming at the opportune time of a good crop yield, and which added millions to the income of the North Dakota farmers, Coolidge was given credit; and Mr. Dawes, his agent in carrying out the plan, was recognized as having an equal share in the good results. Many Germans in the state, who had learned of the improved conditions in the fatherland, added to the number of voters approving of the work of Coolidge and Dawes. A general feeling of confidence in the intent of the president to bring about better farm conditions was also manifested by the support he received.

The election of Mr. Sorlie as governor, and a legislature said to be controlled by the League, is surrounded, at present, with uncertainty as to purposes and acts. In a public interview since the election and in his pre-election statements, Mr. Sorlie has assured the people of the state of no intention on his part to restore the old League program of state ownership, and operation of business industries. He declares it is his intention to continue that line of policy to an economical operation of state mill and to continue only the land department of the Bank of North Dakota.

If this is done in good faith, and results follow as a consequence, people of the state will be gratified. There is no real reason now why the leadership and membership of the League should not join hands with the Independents to carry out the program of economy in government reduction of taxes and real progress for the settlement and development of the state.

In the meantime it is only fair to give the governor-elect credit for his promised word, and await developments. The re-election of attorney-general Shafer, and the commissioner of agriculture and labor, Mr. Kitchen, who are members of the important board of control of state institutions, will have a bearing to check any attempt that may be promoted by the radical forces of the League to restore to operation the old program of experiments in the industrial business enterprises. These experiments have disastrously affected the state, both at home and abroad, and no well wisher of the state wants to see them repeated, to pile up an additional indebtedness on the present enormous bonded debt, incurred to pay losses due to the League program.

On the whole the election results contain much good promise for North Dakota, and an assurance of help instead of opposition to the movement for a greater North Dakota.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

While Daddy Gander took the cook back to Yum Yum Land, on his magic dust-pan, something else was happening up in the sky.

A wind came along and blew away the cloud that held up the House-That-Jack-Built.

And then as the cloud was passing the highest mountain in the world, it left the house sticking on the mountain peak like a bird-house on a pole.

And the Twins were in it.

"Oh goodness!" cried Nancy. "How shall we ever get down?"

"Easy as pie," declared Nick. "What are our magic green shoes for?"

"I know," said Nancy. "But they won't do any good. We'd have to leave Jack's house up here and I'd be ashamed to go back without it. Besides we never could remember how to get back."

Suddenly they heard a laugh. "Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho, ho!" said a voice. "What are friends for, I'd like to know? Didn't I tell you a long time ago to let me know if you needed help? That's no way to treat an old friend."

And a funny man in a high-peaked hat stuck his chin over the window sill and grinned.

"Mister Pim Pim!" cried Nick, instantly recognizing the King of the Brownies.

"That same!" cried Master Pim Pim gleefully. "And a funny fix you both seem to be in. I just happened to climb up here to look for my glasses that got lost, and here I find a house and everything. I'm not so near-sighted that I cannot see that much."

"Oh, come in, Mister Pim Pim," cried Nancy delightedly. "Sit down on that rocking chair and we'll tell you all about it."

So Mister Pim Pim sat down on Mrs. John's rocking-chair (which was miles too big for him) and listened to Nancy's amazing story of their search for the House-That Jack-Built.

"And you mean to say that the house floated away just because the bread-sponge got too light," he exclaimed.

Nancy nodded. "Yes, that was it," she declared. Mrs. John, Jack's mother, is a fine baker, but she put too much yeast in her bread-sponge, and when she was out hanging up her tea-towels, it kept rising and rising, the sponge did, and it got so light the whole house blew away and floated up to the sky."

"That's the most surprising thing I ever heard of in all my life," declared Mister Pim Pim. "But how do you happen to be stuck here on this mountain top like a ship on a rocky island in the sea?"

Nick told the rest of the story. About Daddy Gander and the cook and the king and the peddler, and how Daddy Gander had taken the cook back to Yum Yum Land on his magic dust-pan.

"He'll never find us now," wailed the Twins. "The wind blew us here after he had gone. He is probably sailing all through the sky looking for us at this very minute. Mother Goose, too!"

"Well, don't worry," said Mister Pim Pim kindly. "I know a way to get you down. I'm not king of a million brownies for nothing."

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEATRICE SUMMERS

Dear Bee: I wish that handsome husband of yours had not elected to go out to Hollywood and become a "movie pitcher maggot." It has taken you so far away from me. I think that if you were anywhere within a hundred miles of me at this moment I would try and get away for a day and talk to you.

I want your advice. I am sure you will know when I say this that something has happened for I am not prone to ask advice of anyone.

I never realized what a solitary woman I was until you married and went away out there to California.

You may not think you have been in my mind very much lately because I have not written. You will forgive me, however, when I tell you all the things that have occurred in this part of the country in the last few weeks.

First, as perhaps you have heard, Mr. Hamilton succumbed at last to his long illness. Before he died he made a will making Mr. Prescott the executor of his estate and also appointing him president and manager of the steel plant. He did this by commanding John as executor of his estate to vote the fifty-one per cent of the stock belonging to it for himself as manager. That, of course, means that Mr. Prescott will give up his job with the Acme Advertising Company here and the whole family will move to Pittsburg.

I do not know yet whether Mrs. Hamilton will give them the use of the old house or whether Leslie will buy one for herself. She will be perfectly able financially to do what she pleases as by the terms of her father's will she has the income of her share of the estate and investments until her mother's death, when the whole property is to be divided between Alice, Leslie and Leslie's adopted boy.

Now what do you think about that? Isn't it the queerest will you ever heard?

With the best reason in the world for thinking that Alice and Leslie would both have children in the future, Mr. Hamilton gives to a child not of his blood a large share of his estate.

Of course this makes it very nice for Mr. and Mrs. Prescott but I bet Alice Whitney is wild. Of course you heard that Alice ran away and married Karl.

From some little word that Mr. Prescott dropped I imagine there was some queer doings at the time and that the sisters are not on the best of terms.

I heard Mr. Prescott say to one of his friends the other day that he could not understand how two sisters could be so totally different as Leslie and Alice and in speaking to me later of his sister-in-law he said that she was quite the most disagreeable woman he had ever met.

There was also some kind of a misunderstanding between Leslie and her husband over that party but I do not know what it was. She did not leave because of her father's illness. I am sure she made that just an excuse. However, she was with him a long time before he died and I am sure that she did not write to Mr. Prescott before he left for Pittsburg, which was only a few days before Mr. Hamilton's death.

HOW YOU CATCH YOUR COLDS

By Albert Apple

Epidemics of colds are beginning to go the rounds. Their season has started. A doctor writes, urging people to do away with the handkerchief and use, instead, squares of cheesecloth which can be burned later, along with germs.

The use of the handkerchief is the most unsanitary and unhealthful practice of civilized man.

Going into the family wash, it is apt to spread its cargo of germs. Few people boil clothes long enough to kill germs. To kill the tuberculosis germ, for instance, requires as much as 20 minutes of boiling.

Cheesecloth is cheap. It's easily burned. Common sense suggests its use at all times, certainly when we have a cold.

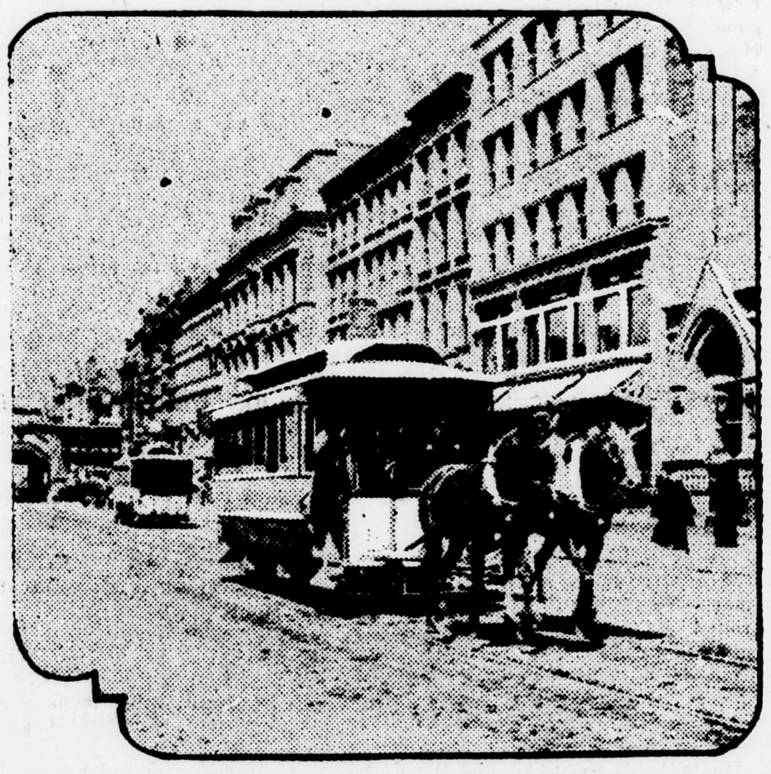
A person with a cold expectorates in the street. The sputum dries up and the germs are blown around in the dust. Inhaled, they transfer the cold to other victims. Safety wouldn't be assured even if we wore gas masks over nose and mouth, for germs can enter the body through the eyes.

Diseases cannot be curbed unless every one of us is decent enough to do his part to safeguard others. And the common cold is easily the worst malady we have. The average person has several colds a year. He feels wretched. His work suffers. Probably he's confined to the house a few days. Nationally the thing mounts up into a tremendous economic loss.

We are constantly being attacked by germs. Whether we are able to hold them in check depends largely on our powers of bodily resistance. Plenty of sleep; moderation in eating; regular exercise and lots of fresh air; all these help.

"Colds" are improperly named. They might be better known as "hots," since they usually bring fever. Apparently they got their popular name because they're most prevalent in cold weather.

Above all, we should mark and remember this false notion—the popular saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever." This saying originated more than 2000 years ago when Hippocrates, the Greek "father of medicine," said: "If we feed a cold, you will have to starve a fever." Time has twisted his words and thereby falsified their meaning. Hippocrates was right. Starve your cold.



Just 25 years, a bare quarter of a century, marks the difference between this scene and congested, mechanical Forty-second street, New York, today. The plodding car horses drew their loads from ferry to ferry, at the ends of the street.

New York, Nov. 10.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, steel magnate, has Box 19 in the famous Golden Horseshoe of the Metropolitan Opera which has just opened its season with "Aida." It is reported along Broadway that he paid Henry Frick $200,000 for the box.

In 31 years only seven boxes in the Golden Horseshoe have changed hands. In 1892 the 35 boxes in the charmed circle were sold for $30,000 each, but the purchasers paid an additional $30,000 tax to support the venture.

The original holders drew lots for choice and J. P. Morgan won in the draw. He selected Box 35, the one farthest from the stage. He was also seventh in the draw and took Box 31 as his second choice. However, some of the high-hats were disappointed in the drawing and concessions had to be made. In the final alignment Cornelius Vanderbilt was installed in Box 31.

* * *

One not only buys social prestige when purchasing a box in the Golden Horseshoe. He makes a worthwhile investment as well. The property on which the Metropolitan stands at 40th street and Broadway was recently appraised at $4,050,000 by the city.

And if one doesn't care to attend every performance, a box with its six seats can easily be rented for $100. There are 120 performances during the season.

* * *

With only seven changes in ownership in the Golden Horseshoe it is to be presumed that the upper crust of New York society has been dented but little since 1892.

Along the North River docks..... A Portuguese sailor with a livid scar on his neck, his blouse turned down as though to boast of the scar. What's his story???? A grizzled old fellow in rags watching the tide flow up the river. Watching and seeing nothing. What's his story???? Under a sidetracked freight car a young fellow, filthy and unkempt, curled up there like a bit of human flotsam washed ashore. What's his story??? Out of a window above a squalid livery stable, a little boy peers. Pale, wistful, lonely. Immediately before him nothing but human scum passes. In the background great ships come and go from the seven seas. Of what is he dreaming? What will his story be????

FABLES ON HEALTH

FOR SLEEPLESSNESS

Many people complain of sleeplessness.

Surely, Mr. Jones of Anytown was never bothered by such a trouble, and a great flood of worries generally muddled his head to such an extent that he was gapy to get sleep as an escape.

Until recently people thus troubled worried a great deal about the condition, but modern science teaches that there is no great cause for worry, as rest may be had without sleep and the evils have been exaggerated by the sufferers.

Nevertheless, since it does prove a mental disturber, there are a few simple aids that might be tried—and these involve getting a better circulatory distribution.

Get out of bed, stand erect and rise to tiptoe position. Repeat this rapidly until a good blood flow is felt in the calf of the legs. This will indicate that the blood is leaving the head. Then lie down again, compose yourself and breathe deeply and rapidly. This will generally act in a relaxful way and sleep will soon follow.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

THE ELECTORAL MANDATE

Just what sort of a mandate the people of North Dakota gave Arthur G. Sorlie is open to question. Mr. Sorlie believes the people told him to run the mill and elevator and Bank of North Dakota. At the same time the people elected George Shafer and Joseph A. Kitchen, who are the majority on the Industrial Commission which the law says shall run the industries. Mr. Sorlie said in Bismarck he would broaden the function of the bank, but Mr. Kitchen and Mr. Shafer were pledged to keep its activities restricted. Contending factions also divided control of the legislature.

It was a result that might be expected without a definite cleavage defined for the average voter, who has'nt time to figure out all the niceties involved in the definition of position by the League and Independents. The majority of the Nonpartisans presumably are for lots of state industries — their platform said so. Most of the Independents presumably are against state industries, although their platform expressed opposition only in the broad and vague terms. And the voters chose a little bit of both, the positions, from a broad point of view which must be taken by the average voter, appear to him to be much the same.

* * *

Mr. Sorlie is a new sort of a "radical." He is reputed to be a successful business man, owning oil stations, banks business property, has or does own elevators and other businesses.

Mr. Sorlie takes his politics rather philosophically. He didn't show or seem to harbor bitterness over the issues. He appears to be above that. He asked for the good wishes of North Dakota and he has them in his new job. The time has passed when a prayer for failure of the opposite faction, when it is handling the taxpayers' money, is offered up immediately after election.

Mr. Sorlie has been inclined at times to act independently. His record of success in business life would indicate he has the ability to do so. He has been quoted as saying he has no political ambition and that one term as Governor is enough. If he would take this attitude and put his best into the job without listening to political advice he might do the state a lot of good. Probably so much good that the voters would demand his reelection.

* * *

But whether Mr. Sorlie makes a success of the mill and elevator, or does not, will not be the big question in the next campaign. Mr. Sorlie can't commit the majority of the leaders of his faction to a half-way policy on public ownership. The Independents have failed in their effort to dodge the question. The people are entitled in the next campaign to have an opportunity to choose between a faction that announces it wants to scrap the program and doesn't want office if the people don't want the program scrapped; and they are entitled to vote on the other hand for a faction that wants to keep the present industries and start some more. The question must not be whether or not the businesses pay — but whether they are right in principle. LaFollette's public ownership program was repudiated in North Dakota. There is reason to believe the state program would be, if the voters were given a chance to express themselves at a special election.

* * *

The industries will be before the legislature. Their losses now are heavy. There will be attempts to minimize the losses by the League, and attempts to exaggerate them by their opponents. The people are entitled to a policy that makes these industries stand on their own audit reports which show clearly their standing on the same basis as private industries. The losses ought not to be hidden through diversion into various channels by clever accounting. The taxes lost to the state ought to be added to the financial report of the mill and elevator. That is simply honesty in presenting its status. The legislature will be presented with the problem of finding new funds for the industries. And the legislature ought to be honest enough to get the money by direct taxation, and not by pilfering the tax money from the Bank of North Dakota.

* * *

When Mr. Sorlie takes his office he may well consider the vote on the tax reduction bill. It failed by a small vote. perhaps the people still have faith in representative government and expect their representatives to keep taxes down. The most potent reason, however, was the feeling that it would eliminate home rule from local taxing districts, particularly country school districts, and the fear upon the part of many that it would cripple the schools. The people don't want their schools crippled, but the powerful protest vote shows they are tired of seeing money wasted either in governmental or school affairs, and they want lower taxes. The vote for the bill is as clear a mandate as the majority against the bill, and it ought to be heeded.

North Dakota is a small state. Yet there are some visionaries who would conduct its activities on the scale of the state of New York.

LEGS VS. DOLLARS

In an accident, Benjamin Warshofsky, 20, lost his left leg and the other was so badly smashed it's useless. A jury awards him $60,000. But he, formerly strong and athletic, sits glumly at the window and says: "What do I care for a coupla dollars? They won't give me back by legs."

Money is not all, though most of us never realize it until we have lost health or become crippled. If we realized, the goal of our work would be health and sound bodies, rather than pay.

PIGEON SPEED

Because it flew 187 miles at a speed faster than a mile a minute, a pigeon gets its picture in the papers and is exhibited at the electrical exposition in New York.

An airplane that can't travel faster than that is out-of-date. All this has come about in 20 years. We move fast.

ELECTION RESULTS PROMISE MUCH FOR NORTH DAKOTA

(Jamestown Alert)

Election results in North Dakota will have a most important bearing on the future of the state. The election of Coolidge and Dawes means restoring the confidence of the outside interests, insuring the cooperation of financial support for the development of the state. The election restores North Dakota to the company of all the states that have resisted the encroachments of the socialist movement. It cannot now be said that Wisconsin and North Dakota are the only two LaFollette states in the union.

The result was to a large extent, due to the better prices obtained for grain, which was generally conceded to have followed the acceptance of the Dawes reparation plan in Europe. For this beneficial change in prices, coming at the opportune time of a good crop yield, and which added millions to the income of the North Dakota farmers Coolidge was given credit; and Mr Dawes, his agent in carrying out the plan, was recognized as having an equal share in the good results. Many Germans in the state, who had learned of the improved conditions in the fatherland, added to the number of voters approving of the work of Coolidge and Dawes. A general feeling of confidence in the intent of the president to bring about better farm conditions was also manifested by the support he received.

The election of Mr. Sorlie as governor, and a legislature said to be controlled by the League, is surrounded, at present, with uncertainty as to purposes and acts. In a public interview since the election and in his pre-election statements, Mr. Sorlie has assured the people of the state of no intention on his part to restore the old League program of state ownership, and operation of business industries. He declares it is his intention to continue that line of policy to an economical operation of state mill and to continue only the land department of the Bank of North Dakota.

If this is done in good faith, and results follow as a consequence, people of the state will be gratified. There is no real reason now why the leadership and membership of the League should not join hands with the Independents to carry out the program of economy in government reduction of taxes and real progress for the settlement and development of the state.

In the meantime it is only fair to give the governor-elect credit for his promised word, and await developments. The re-election of attorney-general Shafer, and the commissioner of agriculture and labor, Mr. Kitchen, who are members of the important board of control of state institutions, will have a bearing to check any attempt that may be promoted by the radical forces of the League to restore to operation the old program of experiments in the industrial business enterprises. These experiments have disastrously affected the state, both at home and abroad, and no well wisher of the state wants to see them repeated, to pile up an additional indebtedness on the present enormous bonded debt, incurred to pay losses due to the League program.

On the whole the election results contain much good promise for North Dakota, and an assurance of help instead of opposition to the movement for a greater North Dakota.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

While Daddy Gander took the cook back to Yum Yum Land, on his magic dust pan, something else was happening up in the sky.

A wind came along and blew away the cloud that held up the House-That-Jack-Built.

And then as the cloud was passing the highest mountain in the world, it left the house sticking on the mountain peak like a bird-house on a pole.

And the Twins were in it.

"Oh goodness!" cried Nancy "How shall we ever get down?"

"Easy as pie," declared Nick. "What are our magic green shoes for?"

"I know," said Nancy. "But they won't do any good. We'd have to leave Jack's house up here and I'd be ashamed to go back without it. Besides we never could remember how to get back."

Suddenly they heard a laugh. "Ha, ha, ha! Ho, ho, ho!" said a voice. "What are friends for, I'd like to know? Didn't I tell you a long time ago to let me know if you needed help? That's no way to treat an old friend."

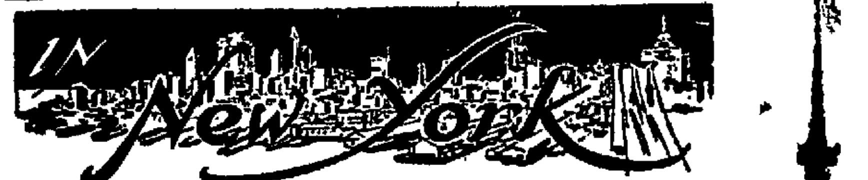
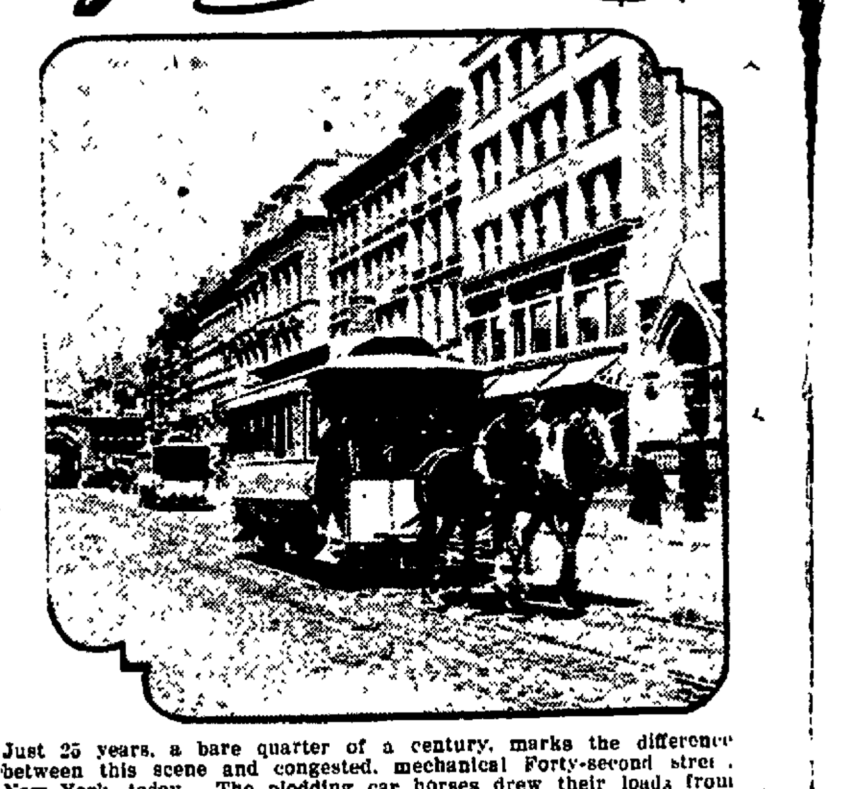
The average person has several colds a year. He feels wretched. His work suffers. Probably he's confined to the house a few days. Nationally the thing mounts up into a tremendous economic loss.

We are constantly being attacked by germs. Whether we are able to hold them in check depends largely on our powers of bodily resistance. Plenty of sleep; moderation in eating; regular exercise and lots of fresh air; all these help.

"Colds" are improperly named. They might be better known as "hots," since they usually bring fever. Apparently they got their popular name because they're most prevalent in cold weather.

Above all, we should mark and remember this false notion —the popular saying, "Feed a cold and starve a fever." This saying originated more than 2000 years ago when Hippocrates, the Greek "father of medicine," said: "If we feed a cold, you will have to starve a fever." Time has twisted his words and thereby falsified their meaning. Hippocrates was right. Starve your cold.





Just 25 years, a bare quarter of a century, marks the difference between this scene and congested, mechanical Forty-second street, New York, today. The plodding car horses drew their loads from ferry to ferry, at the ends of the street.

New York, Nov. 10.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, steel magnate, has Box 19 in the famous Golden Horseshoe of the Metropolitan Opera which has just opened its season with "Aida." It is reported along Broadway that he paid Henry Frick $200,000 for the box.

In 31 years only seven boxes in the Golden Horseshoe have changed hands. In 1892 the 35 boxes in the charmed circle were sold for $30,000 each, but the purchasers paid an additional $30,000 tax to support the venture.

The original holders drew lots for choice and J. P. Morgan won in the draw. He selected Box 35, the one farthest from the stage. He was also seventh in the draw and took Box 31 as his second choice. However, some of the high-hats were disappointed in the drawing and concessions had to be made. In the final alignment Cornelius Vanderbilt was installed in Box 31.

• • •

One not only buys social prestige when purchasing a box in the Golden Horseshoe. He makes a worthwhile investment as well. The property on which the Metropolitan stands at 40th street and Broadway was recently appraised at $4,050,000 by the city.

And if one doesn't care to attend every performance, a box with its six seats can easily be rented for $100. There are 120 performances during the season.

• • •

With only seven changes in ownership in the Golden Horseshoe it is to be presumed that the upper crust of New York society has been dented but little since 1892.

Along the North River docks... A Portuguese sailor with a livid scar on his neck, his blouse turned down as though to boast of the scar. What's his story???? A grizzled old fellow in rags watching the tide flow up the river. Watching and seeing nothing. What's his story???? Under a sidetracked freight car a young fellow, filthy and unkempt, curled up there like a bit of human flotsam washed ashore. What's his story??? Out of a window above a squalid livery stable, a little boy peers. Pale, wistful, lonely. Immediately before him nothing but human scum passes. In the background great ships come and go from the seven seas. Of what is he dreaming? What will his story be????

FABLES ON HEALTH

FOR SLEEPLESSNESS

Many people complain of sleeplessness.

Surely, Mr. Jones of Anytown was never bothered by such a trouble, and a great flood of worries generally muddled his head to such an extent that he was gapy to get sleep as an escape.

Until recently people thus troubled worried a great deal about the condition, but modern science teaches that there is no great cause for worry, as rest may be had without sleep and the evils have been exaggerated by the sufferers.

Nevertheless, since it does prove a mental disturber, there are a few simple aids that might be tried—and these involve getting a better circulatory distribution.

Get out of bed, stand erect and rise to tiptoe position. Repeat this rapidly until a good blood flow is felt in the calf of the legs. This will indicate that the blood is leaving the head. Then lie down again, compose yourself and breathe deeply and rapidly. This will generally act in a relaxful way and sleep will soon follow.

Is This Your Birthday

Monday, Nov. 10—Have you selected your goal in life? If so, and it is up to you, you will come through all experiences a victor. But you must be working diligently toward a definite mark, for you are inclined to be erratic and are too easily led by what others say.

Learn to use your own mind. You are always ready to give battle for your convictions. Weigh them carefully. Literary and poetic, sensitive and intuitive, there is nothing to prevent you from gaining your goal —except yourself.

At the basis of your personality is a strongly defined religious vein, though ~~you may hardly~~ recognize it. Be not led—but lead.

Bismarck Students In Activities At University

Bismarck students are taking part in various activities at the University as the following roster will show:

A contest for the selection of the ten most prominent alumni of the University of North Dakota will be held in connection with University week, which will be held beginning Nov. 24, under the management of the University Press club.

The contest will be conducted by popular vote through the Dakota Daily Student, and through the various alumni groups organized throughout the state. Pictures of the alumni thus chosen will be published in the 1926 Dacotah, according to Ralph Curry of Jamestown, editor-in-chief of the annual.

During the week, a series of speakers will appear before the various organizations of the campus, giving informational talks on the University.

Committees to carry out the plans for the week were appointed by Charles Burke, president of Press club, at the meeting of the club, held Monday afternoon, and were as follows:

Committee on speakers, Peter Burtness, Crary, and Marvin Thorstenson, Washburn; list of advantages of university, Ferdina Reinholt, Grand Forks, Robert Birdzell, Bismarck; 'Do you know' paragraphs in the Student, Charles Evans, Grand Forks; prominent alumni committee, Margaret Dickinson, Minot, Ralph Curry, Jamestown; convocation committee, John Powell, Devils Lake; radio program, Gordon Jenkins, Grand Forks; posters about "U," Lyle Webster, Webster; committee in charge of alumni activities, Armin Rohde, Grand Forks; publicity committee, (local), Chester Matteson, Enderlin, Lawrence Pray, Valley City, and Ed Thompson, St. Thomas.

Edward Alfson was elected captain of the University freshman football team, it was announced today. The big fullback will lead the first year men in the remaining games of the season. They will play Mayville normal next Friday, and may play the American Legion team within the next few weeks. The sixteen members of the squad took part in the voting, all those participating in the freshman games, being eligible to vote.

In the U. N. D.—A. C. freshman battle last Friday, Alfson was one of the stars, being one of the effective ground gainers in the 26 to 0 victory for the yearlings.

Among the 400 students of the University of North Dakota who attended the U. N. D.-A. C. game at Fargo Saturday, were the following Bismarck people: Sylvia Sell, Earl Benser, Genevieve Parsons, Marion and Ruth Staley, George Russ, and Katharine Podenstab.

Barbara Register of Bismarck was the outstanding star on the freshman hockey squad, in the first round of the hockey tournament played Monday. The freshman won a 1 to 0 victory from the sophomores, while the juniors won from the seniors with a similar score. Miss Register's playing was consistent throughout the four periods of play, and she made the only attempt to play the wing instead of the center field during the game. Hilda Hultberg, also on the freshman team, did good work.

Psi Gamma chapter of Chi Omego sorority observed the first anniversary of its installation at the University of North Dakota recently with a banquet at the Hotel Dacotah. Miss Alice Retzlaff and Miss Ruby Moen had charge of the arrangements for the observance.

Miss Lucy Johnson presided as mistress of ceremonies, and these toasts were given: "Babyhood of Psi Gamma," Ferdina Reinholt; "Youth of Psi Gamma," Myrtle McCrea; "Maturity of Psi Gamma," Edna Gustafson; "Looking Forward," Leone Langness.

The sorority colors, cardinal and straw, prevailed in the decorative scheme.

Give Shower For Miss Irene Benson

The manager and employes of the Woolworth Store entertained Saturday evening at a surprise shower for Miss Irene Benson, at her home, 223 Twelfth street, at which twenty-five guests were present. A mock wedding was a feature of the evening, the bride being, Miss Wagondorf; groom, Miss Hines; pastor, Mr. Dewall; ring-bearer, Leverne Dewall; bridesmaid, Leslie Dewall, and best man, Mr. Flow. Mr. E. J. Huglskamp was an out-of-town guest. Miss Benson received many beautiful and useful gifts, the shower being of a miscellaneous nature. A delightful lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Armistice Day Dinner Tomorrow

The annual Armistice Day dinner will be given at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Tuesday evening at 6:40 o'clock. All ex-service men and women of the county are invited to be present, also all visiting ex-service men and women, not of this county.

The following program will be given:

Singing of America.
Invocation—Father Slag.
Community singing during the courses of the dinner with Spencer Boise as leader and L. C. Sorlien at the piano.
Address—Governor R. A. Nestos.
Vocal program—Mrs. F. J. Kepler.
Singing of Star Spangled Banner.

RECEIVES FATAL INJURY

Mrs. C. F. Kellogg, Bismarck, formerly of New Salem and Mandan, left last evening for Portland, Ore., where she was called by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Flynn, formerly of Mandan. Mrs. Flynn, now 80 years old, recently slipped and fell on the tiled floor of the bathroom at the home of her daughter Mrs. E. J. Steele, Portland, Ore., with whom she was living. She suffered a fractured hip and the injury brought on a general breakdown in health from which due to her advanced age there is small hope for her recovery. The Flynn family made its home in Mandan for many years in the early days.

FORMER BISMARCK MAN INJURED

D. F. Barry, formerly a photographer of this city, now a resident of Duluth, Minn., was injured recently when an automobile crashed into the rear end of a street car from which Mr. Barry was alighting. He is under a doctor's care but it is not known how badly he is hurt.

LEGION AUXILIARY TO MEET

There will be a regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Wednesday evening, at 8 o'clock, at the Business and Professional Womens Club rooms. Every member is asked to bring a glass of jell for the jelly shower for the North Dakota boys in the government Hospital at Helena, Mont.

ENTERTAINS AT SHOWER

Miss Anna Marie Manning entertained for nineteen friends at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Irene Benson, who is to be a bride of this month. The evening was spent in playing games and in hemming dish towels. Lunch was served at the close of the evening.

UNITED IN MARRIAGE

Miss Eva Braun and Peter P. Roether, both of this city, were united in marriage this morning by Father Slag. Mr. Roether is employed at the Will's Seed House and the couple will make their home in this city.

NAMED TO OFFICES

Earl Benser of Bismarck was named secretary of the freshman class at the University of North Dakota and Lois Crary, daughter of E. M. Crary of this city, was named president of the Junior class.

LEAVES FOR ST. PAUL

Mrs. M. J. Fadden, who has been visiting her sons in this city for the past week, left this morning for St. Paul, where she will visit with her daughters.

Mrs. L. E. Sinner, who has been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Klein, left this morning for her home in Greenfield, Iowa.

LEAVES TO ATTEND MEET IN CHICAGO

F. E. Diehl, of the Board of Administration, left Saturday morning for Chicago, where he will attend a National meeting of the Governing Boards.

JUBILEE BANQUET

At the Jubilee banquet of the W. C. T. U. held Friday evening at the Methodist church especial mention was made of the beautiful cake which was made and presented by Hughes Brothers Bakery.

SPEAKS AT SENTINEL BUTTE

Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor Joseph A. Kitchen spoke before the Golden Valley Sunday School Association in Sentinel Butte last night on the subject, "The Future of North Dakota."

LEAVES TO HOLD INSTITUTE

J. W. Riley, of the Educational Department, left Sunday for Sheridan county, where he will conduct a Teachers Institute this week.

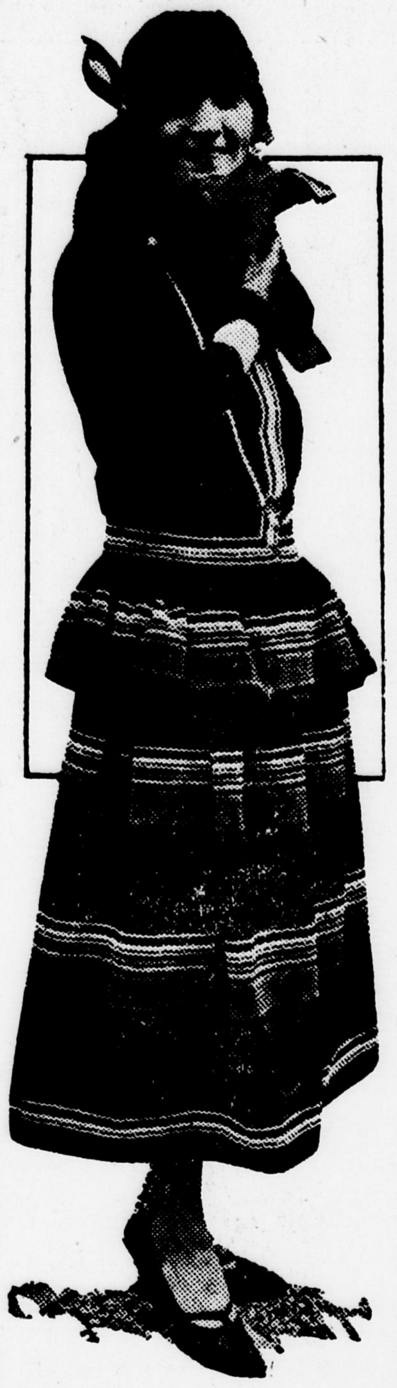
RETURNS FROM MINNEAPOLIS

Mrs. W. E. Cole returned recently from a two weeks visit in Minneapolis.

HERE ON BUSINESS

R. M. Grant of R. M. Grant and Company, bond dealers, Chicago and New York, has been here for a few days in connection with the purchase of soldier bonus certificates.

WAISTLINE IS BACK AGAIN



This snappy French dress is of black velvet printed with Roman stripes in brilliant colors. It is decidedly new in line and in feeling and very attractive as you can see. The ruffle about the waistline is noticed on many smart gowns that have recently come over from Paris and seems to indicate that a new silhouette is on the way.

TO SING AT LEGION BANQUET

Mrs. F. J. Kepler of Dawson, N. Dak., is the guest of Mrs. W. L. Smith, and will sing at the Legion Banquet to be held tomorrow evening.

TO DELIVER ADDRESS

L. F. Crawford, curator of the State Historical Society, will deliver the Armistice Day address at Washburn Tuesday.

GIRLS CLUB TO MEET

The Girl's Club of the Trinity Lutheran Church will meet this evening at 8 o'clock sharp, with Anna and Esther Monson, hostesses.

LADIES AID TO MEET

Division number four of the Presbyterian Ladies Aid will meet with Mrs. F. E. McCurdy, Tuesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

WEEK-END GUEST

Mrs. I. G. Wright of Estherville, Iowa, is the week-end guest at the W. C. Bush home.

At The Movies

AT THE CAPITOL

Some of the most thrilling airplane stunts ever filmed, are promised in "The Fighting American," Universal Jewel booked for screening in the Capitol Theatre beginning tonight. Much of the action has to do with the rollickingly daring efforts of a college youth who becomes a derelict in China. The story won the scholarship prize offered by Carl Laemmle, president of Universal Pictures Corporation, for the best scenario submitted in an inter-collegiate competition. The winner is William Elwell Oliver, University of California student. Thomas Forman directed. Pat O'Malley, Mary Astor and Raymond Hatton are in the cast.

THE ELTINGE

"Christine of the Hungry Heart," from the versatile pen of Kathleen Norris, which analyzes the soul of "Christine," follows it through travail until, after much suffering, poverty and loneliness, Christine finds that "Something" that will fill the great void in her heart, and she is happy, is the feature at the Eltineg theatre for today and Tuesday.

Christine is played by the beautiful, sparkling Florence Vidor. Miss Vidor makes of Christine a real woman—one that women will understand and men love.

Clive Brook, who came all the way from London for the part, enacts the role of the doctor, famed for his operations and cures for crippled children.

Warner Baxter is in the role of the irresponsible Stuart Knight, and Ian Keith is the poet with whom Christine elopes. Walter Hiers is the adoring brother and Dorothy Brock the little son.

Wife of Salesman Instantly Killed Near Hankinson

Mrs. G. J. Griffin, was killed almost instantly, when the Buick car in which the couple were driving overturned one and one half times north of Dwight at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday. Mr. Griffin, who is a salesman, was en route to Hankinson to see a customer and was accompanied by his wife. The accident happened when the accelerator stuck as the car approached a rutty place in the road. The car was traveling at a speed of only 25 miles an hour at the time. Mr. Griffin was unhurt, but Mrs. Griffin received serious injury to her back. She was removed to a farmhouse but died before a doctor arrived from Wahpeton. Mr. and Mrs. Griffin were married a year ago last June, Mrs. Griffin being a former Oklahoma City, Okla., girl. Mr. Griffin has represented Marshall Fields in this territory for a number of years with headquarters at Fargo and is well known in Bismarck.

NOTICE

Elks Band members should meet at Elks Hall at 1:15 sharp Tuesday, Nov. 11 for parade duty.

WAR STORIES TOLD KIWANIS

Members of Club Relate Tales at Meeting Today

The Kiwanis Club of Bismarck observed an Armistice Day program at today's luncheon.

The program was in charge of George H. Russ Jr., who called upon ex-service men in the club to tell their most amusing incident of the World War. Many interesting and hilarious tales were told to the members by members Russ, Gettleman, Airson, Cole, Gilman, Miller and Sorlien.

Mrs. Herman Scheffer and five other ladies sang war songs which were sung in this country while the members of the club sang songs that were sung on the other side during the war.

The attendance prize was won by Father John Slag. Visitors included L. P. Warren, Adjutant, Lloyd Septz Post, American Legion, and Dr. Sprake of Casselton.

Emma Goldman Now in London

London, Nov. 10.—Emma Goldman, the veteran radical leader who was deported from the United States in 1919, has been staying in London the past two weeks but has declined to tell representatives of the Daily Express and Daily Sketch anything about her visit except that she intends to rest and write her memoirs.

TWO KILLED BY MOTOR POISON

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Two 19-year-old boys were found dead in an automobile garage here, apparently victims of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Returning late from a dance the boys left the engine running to keep warm while they sat in the car talking.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

From Richland County

In the Matter of Margaret Helena Kelber, Helen Kelber and Violet Christiana Kelber.

State of North Dakota, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Henry Kelber, et al. Defendants. Henry Kelber and Bertha Kelber, Defendants and Appellants.

Syllabus:

In a proceeding under the Juvenile Court Act to take from parents the custody of children on the ground of neglect, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that the children were not neglected, within the intent and meaning of the law, and that it was error to permanently deprive the parents of their custody.

Appeal from the District Court of Richland County, before Hon Chas. E. Wolfe, Judge.

Opinion of the Court by Johnson, J.

Reversed.

W. E. Purcell, Wahpeton, N. Dak., Attorney for Appellants.

W. L. Divet, States Attorney for Richland County, Wahpeton, N. D., and John Thorpe, Assistant Attorney General, Bismarck, N. Dak., Attorneys for the State.

From Barnes County

Luverne State Bank, a corporation, Plaintiff and Appellant, vs E. H. Dailey and James McQueen, Defendants and Respondents.

Syllabus:

In an action upon promissory notes where it appeared that the appealing defendant had signed the notes as an accommodation maker for the cashier of the plaintiff or for his co-maker, an instruction directing the jury to find for the defendant, if they should find the note was given for the purpose of accommodation of the payee bank, is held to be prejudicially erroneous.

Appeal from the District Court of Barnes County, Hon. M. J. Englert, Judge.

Reversed, and a new trial granted.

Opinion of the Court by Birdzell, J.

Divet, Holt, Frame & Thorp, and D. R. Divet, Fargo, N. Dak., Attorneys for Appellant.

A. P. Paulson, Valley City, N. Dak., Attorney for Respondent.

From Ramsey County

The State of North Dakota, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Ben Oates, Defendant and Appellant.

Syllabus:

In a prosecution for bootlegging, where the trial court, in its instruction, directed the jury to exercise care and caution in considering the defense of an alibi and required this defense further, in effect, to cover the entire time in the information, upon a record which sought to show sales only upon two different dates, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that such instruction constituted prejudicial error.

In District Court, Ramsey County, Burr, J. Prosecution for bootlegging. Defendant has appealed from judgment of conviction.

Reversed and new trial granted.

Opinion of the Court by Bronson, Ch. J.

Cuthbert & Adamson, Devils Lake, North Dakota, Attorneys for Appellant.

CHICAGO TIES ILLINOIS, BUT GRANGE STARS

Maroons Able to Tie the Score But Not Able to Stop The "Red"

OTHER FOOTBALL GAMES

Chicago, Nov. 10.—"Red" Grange remains the wonder football player of the west today, although Illinois is no longer the invincible team it had been considered by many. After sweeping over Michigan and other teams, the Illinois eleven found a nut too tough to crack in Chicago. It was Grange against the Chicago team.

With a powerful line attack, Chicago scored three touchdowns. Coach Stagg used four full backs in ripping the Illinois line time and again. By winning the toss and being able to receive the kick-off, Chicago was able to pound the line and keep the ball from "Red" Grange's hands in the early part of the game. When "Red" got his chance he made good. He scored three touchdowns, one of them a 90-yard run after he dashed through the line. The final score of 21 to 21 spoiled Illinois' record of conference victories thus far this season.

The dope was upset when Ohio State was defeated by Indiana in a conference game, 12 to 7. Iowa defeated Butler college with difficulty, 7 to 0. Wisconsin fell before the powerful Notre Dame team, 38 to 3. Even when Rockne had his second and third string men in, Wisconsin fell back before the Irish attack.

Minnesota came through in the last four minutes of the Ames game and scored a touchdown to tie the game 7 to 7. Ames scored early in the game. Michigan defeated Northwestern 27 to 0, Friedman starring in his passing game.

In the East the big upset was a 34 to 0 beating given Harvard by Princeton. It was the worst beating Harvard had taken from Princeton in many years. The University of Pennsylvania team defeated Georgetown, 3 to 0, and remained unbeaten in Eastern collegiate football.

Syracuse End Demostrates the Value to Two Swift Pedals and a Pair of Steady Hands on the Modern Football Field

This is an unusual action picture of Victor Hanson, end on the Syracuse varsity, spearing a forward pass while in motion. Hanson is fleet of foot and has a pair of sure, steady hands. These are essential to successful end play. Hanson is one of the best.

YANKEE BALL GAME PUZZLE TO FRENCHMEN

They Attend Game Between Giants and White Sox But Can't See It

GAME IS TOO SHORT

Paris, Nov. 10.—The New York Giants Sunday defeated the Chicago White Sox, 1 to 0. There was much excellent fielding and teamwork which aroused enthusiasm among the American spectators, but, as during Saturday's game, the French spectators were cold and puzzled over the intricacies of the pastime. The weather also was cold—almost wintry—and the spectators drank "grog American" instead of eating peanuts.

The crowd was even smaller than that of Saturday, and unfortunately for the French, they took the low-priced seats back of center field and therefore had little chance to appreciate the fine points of the game.

The game was played in the famous Colombes stadium. President Doumergue failed to put in an appearance, but the government sent a military band and the leading French sportsmen were present.

Game Has Little Appeal

French opinion seems to be that sport at present is having a hard enough time in the country without the necessity of trying to learn a new game that seems to have little appeal to the people. Many of the spectators during the games here have been closely following the coaching, and a number of them joined Hughey Jennings in his "Atta Boy" and his famous "Ee-Yah." The "rooting" of the Frenchmen evoked much laughter and helped the crowd to keep warm.

The French spectators were unable to see the difference between a ball and a strike, and frequently showed their disgust with the batsman for permitting balls to pass or "fanning." Their interest seemed to be limited to curiosity over the great American game, and even the French sporting writers say they cannot see much in it. The writers, however, assert there must be something in it, or otherwise the Americans would not get so excited over it.

Short Game Displeases

Sunday's game lasted only one hour and 12 minutes, which caused much disappointment among the French crowd, which felt that it did not get very much for the money it expended. Both the Giants and the Sox put plenty of ginger in their play, notwithstanding the stands were only 3 per cent filled.

The teams will play their last game here on Thursday, instead of Wednesday, as there is no school Thursday in France. John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, and Charles A. Comiskey of the Sox are sending tickets to many of the public schools in the hope of interesting French youngsters in the American game. The score:

Sox	0	6	1
Giants	1	10	0

Batteries—Foreman and Ruel; Bentley, Nehf and Goudy.

New Salem Team Is Winner

The New Salem High School football team defeated Carson High at New Salem, November 8. The score was 7 to 0. Carson was undefeated until this time. It was the third football game for New Salem High and the school's first victory. Schwartz scored for New Salem. The New Salem team plays Flasher November 15, at New Salem.

Billy Evans Says

Certain athletes may be classed as men of destiny.

Last summer when the Washington club was in the thick of the pennant fight, the management realized a cleanup hitter was badly needed.

Casting around for such a player, Manager Harris decided to take a chance on Wade Lefler, a left handed hitter with a fat minor league reputation and previous major league experience.

Lefler was signed too late to be eligible in the world series, and although he went to bat only four times during his stay with the club, he did his bit toward winning the American League pennant for Washington.

In three of his four appearances at the plate, all of them in the pinch, he hit safely, making two doubles and a single. Each hit played a big part in the result of the game.

It was destiny that enabled Manager Harris to pick up so valuable a man at the eleventh hour. It was destiny that he should deliver as he did.

Then there is the case of "Ducky" Pond, star halfback of Yale's great eleven.

In baseball and football Pond invariably arises to the occasion and does something worth while for the Blue, when deeds of valor mean something.

Last fall against Harvard it was Pond who scored the first touchdown that Yale has made against Harvard since about 1916.

The touchdown gave Yale a much coveted victory over the Crimson of Harvard.

In the recent game between the Army and Yale, once more it was Pond who played the hero role.

A sensational run by Pond, after several times reversing his field, enabled Yale to get a 7 to 7 tie.

When Yale is in trouble and Pond is in the game, the supporters of the Blue have faith in him, feel that he will lead old Eli to victory.

In the recent world series, the great Walter Johnson was sure the man of destiny.

In his first two starts, with all the world pulling for him to win, Johnson went down to defeat.

His first game was worth while. It it a tough break to strike out 12 men and then go down to defeat after 12 innings of battling.

When the seventh and deciding game was played, Johnson appeared out of the running. He had seemingly had his big chance and failed.

Then destiny stepped in and created the situation that put the winning of the world series directly up to the man who had previously twice failed.

The world knows he delivered.

Fate and destiny are sure peculiar critters. You can't dope 'em.

Briquette Rate Is Lowered

New rates on Lignite Briquetts, carload, are published effective October 9, 1924 from Minot to all stations in North Dakota on the Soo, Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Farmers Grain and Shipping Railways. The rates are generally a substantial reduction, but are from 10 to 50 percent higher than the rates on raw lignite. It is understood the new plant at Minot is in full operation and shipping several carloads daily. The change in rates was made voluntarily by the carriers, says the weekly bulletin of the State Railroad Comission.

the backers of the Federated Farmer-Labor Party in North Dakota was defeated in Oliver county in his race for county treasurer. He polled 496 votes as compared to 643 for his successful opponent Wm. M. Kiebert in 16 of the county's 17 precincts.

T. H. Albers was elected sheriff over O. B. Cook; E. F. Mutchler was without opposition for county superintendent of schools; The Center Republican, being the only paper in Oliver county was without opposition for the official paper; County Auditor B. B. Conyne was re-elected over Edwin J. Wonn by a large majority; Louis Lehmkuhl won over Wm. T. Hammel for register of deeds; States Attorney Robert Dunn was reelected over Burton Wilcox; John F. McNulty easily recaptured the county judgeship over Henry A. Sorenson. Judge McNulty serves both as county judge and clerk of court under the law combining those offices in counties with less than 8,000 population. [illegible]

Oliver county gave a small majority in favor of passage of the tax reduction law.

Spelling Match At Underwood Is Success

Before a crowded house Friday night, forty rural school children and sixteen pupils of the town schools in the county competed in a spelling match. Supt. Nuetzman of the Underwood school recently extended an invitation to the various schools to partake in the contests in which $15.00 in cash prizes were awarded to the winners. Curtis Olson won first place and Ruth Johnson won second place in the rural school contest. Both are from Buffalo Lake District and Iona Jertson was their instructor. Ethel Harris won first place for Underwood and Ruth Rougust was second for Washburn school. Five dollar gold pieces were awarded to the winners and two and one half dollar gold pieces were awarded to second place. Mr. Otto Olson of Underwood made the presentation.

Between the hours of five to seven, the Underwood High School girls served a supper and cleared a neat sum. In the afternoon Garrison and Wilton football teams met on the Underwood field, Wilton being victorious. The score was 14 to 0.

CHICAGO TIES ILLINOIS, BUT GRANGE STARS

Maroons Able to Tie the Score But Not Able to Stop The "Red"

OTHER FOOTBALL GAMES

Chicago, Nov. 10.—"Red" Grange remains the wonder football player of the west today, although Illinois is no longer the invincible team it had been considered by many. After sweeping over Michigan and other teams the Illinois eleven found a nut too tough to crack in Chicago. It was Grange against the Chicago team.

With a powerful line attack, Chicago scored three touchdowns. Coach Stagg used four full backs in ripping the Illinois line time and again. By winning the toss and being able to receive the kick-off Chicago was able to pound the line and keep the ball from "Red" Grange's hands in the early part of the game. When "Red" got his chance he made good. He scored three touchdowns, one of them a 90-yard run after he dashed through the line. The final score of 21 to 21 spoiled Illinois record of conference victories thus far this season.

The dope was upset when Ohio State was defeated by Indiana in a conference game, 12 to 7. Iowa defeated Butler college with difficulty, 7 to 0. Wisconsin fell before the powerful Notre Dame team, 38 to 3. Even when Rockne had his second and third string men in, Wisconsin fell back before the Irish attack.

Minnesota came through in the last four minutes of the Ames game and scored a touchdown to tie the game 7 to 7. Ames scored early in the game. Michigan defeated Northwestern 27 to 0, Friedman starring in his passing game.

In the East the big upset was a 34 to 0 beating given Harvard by Princeton. It was the worst beating Harvard had taken from Princeton in many years. The University of Pennsylvania team defeated Georgetown, 3 to 0, and remained unbeaten in Eastern collegiate football.

YANKEE BALL GAME PUZZLE TO FRENCHMEN

They Attend Game Between Giants and White Sox But Can't See It

GAME IS TOO SHORT

Paris, Nov. 10.—The New York Giants Sunday defeated the Chicago White Sox, 1 to 0. There was much excellent fielding and teamwork which aroused enthusiasm among the American spectators, but, as during Saturday's game, the French spectators were cold and puzzled over the intricacies of the pastime. The weather also was cold, almost wintry and the spectators drank "grog Americain" instead of eating peanuts.

The crowd was even smaller than that of Saturday, and unfortunately for the French, they took the low-priced seats back of center field and therefore had little chance to appreciate the fine points of the game.

The game was played in the famous Colombes stadium. President Doumergue failed to put in an appearance, but the government sent a military band and the leading French sportsmen were present.

Game Has Little Appeal

French opinion seems to be that sport at present is having a hard enough time in the country without the necessity of trying to learn a new game that seems to have little appeal to the public. Many of the spectators during the games here have been closely following the coaching, and a number of them cited Hughey Jennings and his [illegible] and his antics. [illegible] the "rooting" of the Americans caused much laughter and helped the crowd to keep warm.

The French spectators were unable to see the difference between a ball and a strike, and frequently showed their disgust with the batter for permitting balls to pass or "fanning." Their interest seemed to be limited to curiosity over the great American game, and even the French sporting writers say they cannot see much in it. The writers, however, assert there must be something in it, or otherwise the Americans would not get so excited over it.

Short Game Displeases

Sunday's game lasted only one hour and 12 minutes, which caused much disappointment among the French crowd, which felt that it did not get very much for the money expended. Both the Giants and the Sox put plenty of ginger in their play, notwithstanding the stands were only 3 per cent filled.

The teams will play their last game here on Thursday, instead of Wednesday, as there is no school Thursday in France. John J. McGraw, manager of the Giants, and Charles A. Comiskey of the Sox are sending tickets to many of the public schools in the hope of interesting French youngsters in the American game. The score:

Sox	0	6	1
Giants	1	10	0

Batteries Foreman and Ruel, Bentley, Nehf and Goudy.

New Salem Team Is Winner

The New Salem High School foot ball team defeated Carson High at New Salem, November 8. The score was 7 to 0. Carson was undefeated until this time. It was the third football game for New Salem High and the school's first victory. Schwartz scored for New Salem. The New Salem team plays Flasher November 15, at New Salem.

Billy Evans Says

Certain athletes may be classed as men of destiny.

Last summer when the Washington club was in the thick of the pennant fight, the management realized a cleanup hitter was badly needed.

Casting around for such a player, Manager Harris decided to take a chance on Wade Lefler, a left handed hitter with a fat minor league reputation and previous major league experience.

Lefler was signed too late to be eligible in the world series, and although he went to bat only four times during his stay with the club, he did his bit toward winning the American League pennant for Washington.

In three of his four appearances at the plate, all of them in the pinch, he hit safely, making two doubles and a single. Each hit played a big part in the result of the game.

It was destiny that enabled Manager Harris to pick up so valuable a man at the eleventh hour. It was destiny that he should deliver as he did

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

From Richland County

In the Matter of Margaret Helena Kelber, Helen Kelber and Violet Christiana Kelber.

State of North Dakota, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Henry Kelber, et al, Defendants. Henry Kelber and Bertha Kelber, Defendants and Appellants.

Syllabus:

In a proceeding under the Juvenile Court Act to take from parents the custody of children on the ground of neglect, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that the children were not neglected, within the intent and meaning of the law, and that it was error to permanently deprive the parents of their custody.

Appeal from the District Court of Richland County, before Hon. Chas. E. Wolfe, Judge.

Opinion of the Court by Johnson, J.

Reversed.

W. E. Purcell, Wahpeton, N. Dak., Attorney for Appellants.

W. L. Divet, States Attorney for Richland County, Wahpeton, N. D., and John Thorpe, Assistant Attorney General, Bismarck, N. Dak., Attorneys for the State.

From Barnes County

Luverne State Bank, a corporation, Plaintiff and Appellant, vs E. H. Dailey and James McQueen, Defendants and Respondents.

Syllabus:

In an action upon promissory notes where it appeared that the appealing defendant had signed the notes as an accommodation maker for the cashier of the plaintiff or for his co-maker, an instruction directing the jury to find for the defendant, if they should find the note was given for the purpose of accommodation of the payee bank, is held to be prejudicially erroneous.

Appeal from the District Court of Barnes County, Hon. M. J. Englert, Judge.

Reversed, and a new trial granted.

Opinion of the Court by Birdzell, J.

Divet, Holt, Frame & Thorp, and D. R. Divet, Fargo, N. Dak., Attorneys for Appellant.

A. P. Paulson, Valley City, N. Dak., Attorney for Respondent.

From Ramsey County

The State of North Dakota, Plaintiff and Respondent, vs. Ben Gates, Defendant and Appellant.

Syllabus:

In a prosecution for bootlegging, where the trial court, in its instruction, directed the jury to exercise care and caution in considering the defense of an alibi and required this defense further, in effect, to cover the entire time in the information, upon a record which sought to show sales only upon two different dates, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that such instruction constituted prejudicial error.

In District Court, Ramsey County, Burr, J. Prosecution for bootlegging. Defendant has appealed from judgment of conviction.

Reversed and new trial granted.

Opinion of the Court by Bronson, Ch. J.

Cuthbert & Adamson, Devils Lake, North Dakota, Attorneys for Appellant.

S. W. Thompson, State's Attorney, Devils Lake, N. D., Attorney for Respondent.

YOUTH SHOT HUNTING, DIES

Bleeds to Death in Kintyre After He Is Shot

Arnold Thu, 17 years old, died in Kintyre last night from loss of blood sustained after he had been accidentally shot while hunting at a lake three miles from Kintyre, according to word received here.

The information received here from Kintyre was to the effect that a shotgun in the rear of an automobile discharged accidentally after Thu had climbed in it, preparing to return home with two younger boys. The shot entered his leg above the knee. He was taken to town, and treated at the hotel, but died three hours later at 8 o'clock from loss of blood.

It was reported that he could not be taken to his home, it being quarantined because of scarlet fever in the family.

CORN CROP SLUMP SHOWN

This Year's Total Is Less Than Last Year

Washington, Nov. 10.—This year's corn crop was placed at 2,477,538,000 bushels today by the Department of Agriculture in its preliminary estimate of production. A month ago 2,459,000,000 were forecast. Last year's crop was 3,046,387,000 bushels.

Preliminary estimates of production for other crops included: Buckwheat 15,520,000 bushels; white potatoes 454,119,000 bushels; sweet potatoes 75,620,000 bushels; tobacco 1,213,975,000 pounds; flax 30,652,000 bushels.

RED CROSS TO HAVE FIRST AID CLASSES HERE

The Burleigh County chapter of the American Red Cross is to start a course in First Aid. Anybody over 16 years of age who is interested in taking the course is asked to communicate with Mrs. H. A. Brandes, director of First Aid Work. The classes will be organized as soon as lists are complete.

First Aid instruction has been introduced within the last few years into the curriculum of many schools, and there is a constantly increasing demand for it. The demand is the logical result of the hazard of sport in the school gymnasium, the playground, and on field and river, as well as of traffic conditions in our cities, the more common use of automobiles and power machines in the country, and the growing complexity of industrial life.

Because of all these things, accidents are of frequent occurrence and, as many of them take place under circumstances which make it impossible to get a physician at once, the value of training in First Aid cannot be overestimated. Many accidents are so slight that First Aid treatment is all that is needed, but others are so serious that the issue between safety and disaster rests on the care given during the first fifteen minutes. And, in any accident, the ability of the layman to keep the injured one comfortable and confident until medical help arrives is an invaluable asset.

The First Aid course which has been prepared for schools consists of fifteen hours instruction. It embraces only what the name indicates. It is the care given to an injured person before the arrival of a physician. The instructions which include much practice work may be given by the school nurse, school physician, physical director, or teacher, who has completed a course in First Aid.

New Method Heals Pyorrhea

Ten Years Bad Case Completely Healed in a Short Time Writes Florida Woman.

Faced with the loss of her teeth, after 10 years' suffering, Mrs. M. J. Travis, an esteemed resident of Jacksonville, declares she finally saved her teeth by a single home treatment: "worth its weight in gold," using her own words: "After having pyorrhea for 10 years my mouth is now healed. Before I found out differently, I was told there was no relief and had yielded to the loss of six fine solid teeth. Then I discovered Moore's pyorrhea treatment. Three days after starting its use, the soreness left my gums; my teeth began to tighten. Now my teeth are clean, my breath sweet, and my mouth completely healed."

The experience of Mrs. Travis is duplicated in hundreds of other cases. If you have pyorrhea—or threatened with pyorrhea your teeth are in danger. Quick and effective treatment is necessary. You can test, without money risk, the treatment used by Mrs. Travis. Simply write the Moreham Co., 1131 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo. Under their guarantee of refund send two dollars. Or, pay postman the $2 with few cents postage. Use the treatment 7 days. Then if you are not wholly satisfied, write to that effect and your $2 will be returned at once.

IT WAS "LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT" FOR HENRY FORD

Home Loving and Unpretentious Is Mrs. Ford, Who as "The Believer" Spurred Husband to Success After Romantic Meeting at "Barn Dance"

MRS. HENRY FORD AND HOME THEY LIVED IN BEFORE FORD BECAME RICH.

By NEA Service

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—It was "love at first sight" for Henry Ford!

There was something about little Clara Bryant, who lived on a farm near Redford, Mich., that attracted Henry.

And that attraction grew rapidly, and three years later the Bryant girl became Mrs. Henry Ford, destined to be the wife of one of the world's richest men, and herself probably the world's richest woman.

Thirty-nine years ago at a barn dance near Dearborn, Mich., Ford, then a tall, thin, gangling youth, espied a small pretty girl with expressive blue eyes and long chestnut-colored hair.

He obtained an introduction. They sat out two "square dances" to talk about his hobby—watchmaking. She was sympathetic. He showed her a queer watch he had made. It had two sets of hands, recording both standard time and sun time.

Fired His Ambitions

She was enthusiastic, forgetting entirely about the two dances. She fired his ambitions. She had faith in him, he knew. And he fell in love with her there and then. Ever since she has had faith in him.

"I knew only a few minutes after talking to her that she was the one for me," Ford said recently. "I was sure from the start. And it's always been that way with me since. She had faith. She was the believer. I never had a word of discouragement from her."

But Mrs. Ford didn't fall in love with Henry right off the bat. It was nearly a year later.

"He impressed me very much as he didn't talk about the useless things which young men usually talk about," she says in telling of their courtship.

"But I didn't fall in love with him until about a year later. We waited two more years before marrying.

Says Henry Careless

"I have always waited on him, and still do. He's a careless man. He's a clean man, but he's careless. He'll drop his collar and his clothes about anywhere, and I have to be picking up after him. I don't say anything about it.

"I don't scold because I know his mind is full of bigger things and he's not conscious of what he is doing."

She warns wives against a "greed for cleanliness," declaring such an attitude carried to extremes will drive husbands out to the friendly club, where he can drop ashes where he will.

The greatest hours of their romantic lives were the last 48 hours that her husband worked on his first automobile which was to carry them to fame and fortune. Forty-eight hours without sleep.

Watched Success

The second night Mrs. Ford sat up until 2 a. m., when the little car was finished and ready for a try-out. It was raining and Mrs. Ford threw a cloak over her shoulders and followed Henry to the small shop near the house.

Ford rolled the car out into the alley and started it. It ran only a short distance. But it ran! One of the foothills of the mountain of success had been topped.

But there were other hills to climb. When Ford drove his odd-looking contrivance, horses balked, drivers swore. Jeering crowds gathered.

The populace called him "crazy" and "half cracked." But through it all Mrs. Ford stood by him—urging him on with her confidence. She was about the only person who had the "nerve" to endure the hoots of the crowd and ride through Detroit streets with him in his "horseless carriage."

Home-Loving Woman

Home-loving and thoroughly unpretentious is this tremendously rich woman.

Despite her millions, she dresses like any middle class woman. She cares nothing for jewels. In dresses the shades she likes are brown and blue. Mink and sable are her favorite furs.

Mrs. Ford believes that good cooking is the biggest part of a woman's job. That's her forte. Indeed she refused to have any servants around her house until a few years ago. She's proudest of her apple pie. She calls it "bird's-nest pie."

"It's quite simple to make," she says.

And Henry likes it.

DARROW ANSWERS THE QUESTION—ARE CRIMINALS WORTH SAVING?

BY ROY J. GIBBONS
NEA Service Writer

Chicago, Nov. 10.—Society has no right to condemn a man to death.

For the preservation of the race, if for nothing else, the state should not deliberately destroy life.

So declares Clarence S. Darrow, internationally famous criminal attorney, whose master pleading has aided more than 100 murderers to cheat death at the hangman's hands.

CLARENCE S. DARROW

In an exclusive interview with NEA Service and The Tribune, Darrow for the first time reveals the workings of his mind in explaining why he has come to the rescue of so many criminals marked for the gallows.

Answering the question: "Are criminals worth saving?" Darrow says:

"It is first necessary to find out what is meant by the word 'criminal.' Whether it means some person who has some anti-social instinct, or one who has been convicted of a crime.

"Everyone has both social and anti-social instincts, and it is only a question of degree as to the extremes each way.

"As for conviction of a crime, there are all sorts of crimes. Convictions run from a dollar fine to death. Many are convicted who are not guilty, so it would be impossible to answer the question from this standpoint.

"But, if the question should be—Are there not criminals who are not worth saving?—then the question should be asked: Worth saving to whom?

"There are an infinite number of people who have high standing who are not worth saving, so far as the community is concerned. In fact, many who are called good people, are very injurious to the community.

"Perhaps there are very few people whose death would make any difference to the community, and in that sense, they would not be worth saving. But, the only admissible question is: 'Are they worth saving to themselves?'

"We live because we want to live, regardless of whether we are doing good to others or not, and it would be very hard to pass and execute a law that only those who do good to others should live.

"Many men, probably most men, prefer to live inside a prison than to die. And their wishes should be consulted and that of their friends.

"It would be dangerous to consult only the wishes of the community. In that case no one's life would be safe.

"Quite apart from all this, nature in the development of the individual, has created imagination which gives him a certain amount of sympathy and pity. To destroy this by brutality of any sort would mean the destruction of the best part of man. And harsh and cruel punishments always have a tendency to destroy the highest emotions of man.

"Many on trial for a capital offense say they prefer to die rather than live out their lives in prison. Perhaps they feel so at the time. But if life prisoners were given free access to guns, razors and poison and had good health, most of them would die of old age.

"Every organism, whether it is human, animal, religious, social or political, has the will to live. With living goes the wish to live. Otherwise life would not persist."

Pausing to comment on the trust estate which the father of slain Bobbie Franks has created to defeat any attempt to liberate Nathan F. Leopold Jr. and Richard A. Loeb, his son's slayers, Darrow says:

"I would say that Mr. Franks and his fund will both be in oblivion before any effort will be made to release Loeb or Leopold. If the time ever comes that the public considers that they are safe to be at large and they have been in prison long enough, the public, through their officials, will, no doubt act, no matter who opposes it.

"Very seldom a case comes before the pardon board that somebody does not oppose the release, and yet the law makes it obligatory that after a certain length of time, prisoners in general must be paroled, if fit for parole, and about 90 percent make good after release. Of course, in murder cases there are very few who are released before serving 20 years."

New Bugle Call To Be Sounded

New York, Nov. 10.—When F. Walter Krebs, tunes in on his radio tomorrow he will hear the "roll call" his bugle composition, in commemoration of the world war's end. Krebs, who was too young to enlist during the war, conceived the idea of a memorial bugle call four years ago. Most of his effort has been to convince every Governor that his air ought to be played on Armistice Day, and consequently many states have included it.

It will lead the ceremonies to announce the minute of silence to be observed by all at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The call will be sounded on battleships also.

NOTICE
Elks Band members should meet at Elks Hall at 1:15 sharp Tuesday, Nov. 11 for parade duty.
